Enovy Coming Home

Ambassador To Russia to Report on Big 3 Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—Admiral William Standley is returning from Moscow with a war report and possible first hand information on the attitude of the soviet government toward a proposed Anglo - American - Russian conference.

In announcing the forthcoming return of the United States ambassador, the state department said today merely that he was coming for consultations concerning discussions being conducted with the British and soviet governments.

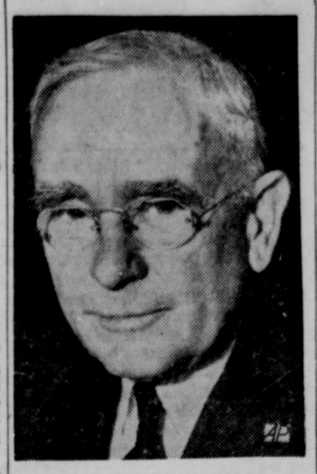

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill said recently that they hoped such a three-power meeting could be arranged.

New Envoy Possible.

Word of Standley's return to Washington may indicate that negotiations for a proposed conference of high American, soviet and British officials are progressing and possibly have reached a stage where this government desires a personal ambassadorial report on the Russian attitude.

There have been recurrent reports that Standley might be replaced by a new ambassador to the Kremlin, but the state department has said that news of any such high diplomatic changes would come from the White house.

Today's brief announcement was made to newsmen and no further comment was forthcoming. However, in view of Standley's statements that he did not wish to spend another winter in Moscow speculation arose whether he would return there after his discussions here.

AMBASSADOR STANDLEY . . . he may not return to Moscow.

—JAP AIR BASE FALLS—

Lae Is Rewon

Few Nip Survivors Chased Into Trap

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 18—(AP)—The air base stronghold of Lae, New Guinea, is in allied hands, wrested from the Japanese by sledge hammer air blows and swift-striking jungle troops in a major step by Gen. Douglas MacArthur toward his avowed return to the Philippines.

"With God's help, we are making our way back," the resolute general said today in announcing Lae's capture.

Its fall Thursday, with the few enemy survivors chased north into a death trap of blockaded jungle trails, occurred while the long smouldering Solomons arm of the Pacific offensive was being reset aflame by many scores of Japanese and American planes.

12-Day Pincer Drive.

Allied air power, growing rapidly at both ends of the 750-mile battle arc, made possible the brilliantly executed 12-day pincers drive which swallowed up Lae. After Liberators and Mitchells razed its last defenses Thursday morning with 43 tons of bombs, the Australians who marched in and raised their flag on Lae's control tower found only a few stragglers among the ruins to kill.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said that 1,800 tons of bombs were dropped on the now captured air bases of Lae and Salamaua—1,000 tons in August alone—during a campaign against a Japanese army estimated at one time to have totalled 20,000 men. How many of these perished remains to be computed, the last estimate by an allied general of 6,000 having been made midway in the operations.

A few prisoners were taken.

Lae, with its two airfields, has been used by the Japanese as their main New Guinea coastal base since they occupied it in January, 1942.

Franchise Revision Foreseen

. . . Letter Indicates Terms Unacceptable

Officials of the Lincoln City Lines, Inc.,—Lincoln Traction Co.—either have rejected the terms of a proposed franchise written by a special committee of the city council, or made suggestions for changes in some of the provisions of the proposals, it was indicated Saturday.

Stanley Maly, chairman of the special council committee, has wired Robert H. Farrell, Chicago, general counsel, that he or an authorized representative should meet with the council Monday. The message was sent after Councilman Maly had read a letter received from Farrell having to do with the proposed franchise.

Letter Discussed.

Decision to send the wire was reached by Maly after a lengthy conference with Mayor Lloyd Marti, to whom Maly showed the letter. Neither Maly nor the mayor would divulge the contents.

Several weeks ago when Maly sent the copy of the proposal to the Chicago officials of the local company the accompanying letter fixed September 20, as the date by which time the company must either accept or reject the proposals. Farrell's letter was in reply to that ultimatum.

There was no indication by either of the officials what action, if any, they would suggest in the event the utility is not represented Monday. That is not considered likely, however, as George A. Lee is the local legal counsel, and has already appeared when no one could get here from Chicago.

5-Cent Fare Sought.

Under the provisions of the suggested franchise, the company is required to reduce fares to 5 cents anywhere in the city, where

Investigators To Check Against Price Boosts At Legion Convention

OMAHA, Sept. 18—(AP)—John G. Aldrich, acting Omaha district OPA director, said today all the district's investigators will be kept in Omaha during the American Legion national convention to see that hotels, restaurants, bars and liquor stores don't boost prices.

"We have implicit confidence in 95 per cent of the proprietors," Aldrich said, "but it is absolutely necessary that all 100 per cent comply."

Sugar Acreage Disagreement For Governors

DENVER, Sept. 18—(AP)—Solidarity dreams of southern and western governors were blurred today—over differing views on sugar acreage quotas.

The southern governors came here to ask westerners to help them fight for a cut in freight rates on manufactured articles shipped out of the south. Western governors had asked the southerners to help them battle federal claim to unappropriated river waters.

Neither group had given a clear-cut promise of aid to the other when Gov. Sam C. Ford of Montana ventured a resolution that both ask the war food administration to let the sugar industry produce at capacity from normal acreage next year and to make beet growing as profitable as bean or pea growing.

Approves Fixed Quotas

Gov. Earl Warren of California spoke approval of the resolution. But two governors from sugar cane states, Spessard Holland of Florida and Sam Jones of Louisiana, objected.

Holland said his state and Louisianna were against planting quotas. He said the Montanan's resolution seemed to call for fixation of quotas. Ford's proposal didn't mention quotas directly, nor did it call for their abolition.

Jones said the resolution should be directed to western governors only.

Gov. Dwight Griswold from the sugar beet state of Nebraska, a guest at the conference, suggested that the resolution be submitted to a committee of three. Gov. John Vivian of Colorado, conference chairman, accepted the idea and named Ford the committee head.

—MILROY MURDER—

MacAvoy Sentenced To Chair

. . . Execution Set For Dec. 30; Will Appeal

CLAY CENTER, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—District Judge Edmund Nuss Saturday sentenced Joseph MacAvoy, 24, Brooklyn, N. Y., to death in Nebraska's electric chair for the rape-slaying of 16-year-old Anna Milroy, Sutton high school junior.

MacAvoy was convicted of first degree murder Wednesday.

Judge Nuss sentenced MacAvoy to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary on Dec. 30.

MacAvoy seemed calm as he appeared before Judge Nuss.

"Have you anything to say before I pass sentence?" asked the judge.

Denies Slaying

"I did not kill the girl," MacAvoy replied.

The judge replied that his statement was contrary to evidence introduced, and that MacAvoy had admitted on the stand that he killed Miss Milroy the night of Aug. 7.

The judge then pronounced sentence, and MacAvoy was ordered taken to the state penitentiary at Lincoln.

Previous to the sentencing Judge Nuss overruled the motion for a new trial.

MacAvoy's attorney announced they will appeal to the Nebraska supreme court. The appeal must be made, and the Supreme court must act upon it, within 100 days from today.

MacAvoy Checked In At Penitentiary

Joseph MacAvoy, convicted slayer of Anna Milroy, arrived at the state penitentiary from Clay Center shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and immediately became No. 15067, with assignment to the penitentiary jail. His sole belongings—a tooth brush and $8.15 in cash, were deposited with Warden Neil Olson.

MacAvoy, when asked by a Star reporter how he felt, replied with a wan smile, and a shrug, "As good as could be expected." He was then led away to be "dressed in." When he arrived MavAvoy wore blue overalls. He was clean shaven, but sported a small moustache.

Sheriff John Harr, of Clay Center, and Deputies Howard Huffaker and Carl North brought MacAvoy to Lincoln by auto.

Sheriff Harr said that since being placed in his custody MacAvoy had behaved in an orderly and respectful manner.

A dramatic moment preceded the departure from Clay Center when MacAvoy's mother, Mrs. Mary Meers, saying goodbye to him for, perhaps, the last time, threw her arms around him, kissed him and sobbed. Sheriff Harr said that the boy remained calm and endeavored to soothe her fears.

Mrs. Meers, who was accompanied from the east by a niece, Charlotte Baker, will return to Brooklyn, N. Y., Sunday morning.

Omaha Hospitals Given Funds For Nurses Training

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—Two additional Nebraska schools of nursing have been granted allotments to train student nurses in the U. S. cadet nurses training program. Creighton Memorial St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha will train 95, and Nebraska Methodist hospital, Omaha, will train 159. St. Elizabeth hospital in Lincoln was recently granted funds to train 72 cadet nurses.

STORM ADVANCES ON GULF COAST

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18—(INS)—The weather bureau in New Orleans warned in a 9:30 a. m. bulletin today that the hurricane raging over the Gulf of Mexico east of Corpus Christi, Texas, has advanced slightly nearer land and that its northward movement will continue at an increasing rate.

Indications are that the hurricane, with winds of 75 to 85 miles per hour and dangerously high tides, will pass inland in the Freeport-Galveston area of the Texas coast late this afternoon or tonight, the bureau's advisory stated.

Hearings Set On 2 U. P. Applications

Two hearings have been set for next week on applications of the Union Pacific Railroad company to discontinue agency service. One involving the station at Primrose is set for Wednesday at 10 a. m., in the court house at Albion. The second involving service at Elba is set for Thursday at 10 a. m., in St. Paul courthouse.

Badoglio Safe Behind Allied Lines In Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 18—(AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio was reported today to be safely behind allied battle lines in Italy.

War Correspondent Clark Lee, representing the combined American press, said in a dispatch from an advanced allied command post that "Badoglio succeeded in fleeing through the German lines

Soviets At Gates Of White Russia

MOSCOW, Sept. 18—(AP)—Military dispatches reported today that the red army had reached the gates of White Russia after crossing the Desna and capturing the key central fortress of Bryansk.

One of Russia's most important networks of communications, including the central stretch of the Moscow-Kiev railroad and the junction leading to White Russia, was cleared by the red army advance.

White Russia lies about 70 miles west of soviet-held Bryansk at the nearest point.

Rerteat On All Fronts

Adolf Hitler's battered German legions, hurled back on every sector of the eastern front and smarting from los sof the key central fortress of Bryansk, and smarting from loss of the fenses today before their Dnieper river bases of Kiev and Smolensk.

Punch-drunk from the incessant hammer blows of the hard-slugging Russians, the nazi lines before the Dnieper barrier were said to be curling up everywhere.

From north of Bryansk down through the central and southern Ukraine to the shores of the Sea of Azov and the Crimean gateway, the Germans were in retreat, leaving behind great stores of war gear in their desperate haste to escape the red army steamroller.

Dnieper Line Imperiled

The Dnieper line was in immediate danger at two main points. Before Kiev, red army advance columns had driven a wedge to within 50 miles of the river, while far to the south another soviet spearhead had captured the Azov port of Ossipenko and smashed to a point 35 miles from the lower reaches of the river, the daily soviet communique reported.

The Russians admittedly were throwing prodigious strength against the war-weary enemy. For two months they have been blasting the Germans from key strongholds. Today they were racing ahead to beat the autumn rains which would turn the Ukranian plains into a morass.

'Legion Will Seek Trial Of Axis Leaders'

...Says Milton Campbell

OMAHA, Sept. 18—(AP)—The American Legion will insist upon trials "of all war criminals, including Hitler, Tojo, and Mussolini," Milton Campbell, director the Legion's national defense committee, asserted here today.

Campbell declared in an interview that not only will trials be sought for the three axis leaders, but for all responsible for the atrocities in Poland, Greece and the other occupied countries.

Campbell said a resolution to that effect would come before the national convention here next week.

Members of the resolutions assignment committee met today in the first formal pre-convention session to distribute to proper committees the approximately 700 resolutions which have been submitted.

Resolutions Submitted.

The resolutions cover a host of topics, and include such controversial subjects as post-war plans for veterans, the role of America in the post-war world, and constitute in general an outline of policy for the Legion in the next year.

Delegates to the convention—a three-day meeting Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday that officials say may be one of the most momentous in Legion history—began to arrive in increasing numbers.

Other arrivals today included T. O. Kraabel, director of the national rehabilitation committee; Mrs. Emma C. Puschner, child welfare director; Henry Dudley, former Nebraska adjutant and now national director of field service.

5th, 8th Striking Jointly

. . . Pressure Mounts

(By the Associated Press)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today that allied sea-borne forces have captured the island of Procida, only 12 miles from the heart of bomb-ravaged Naples, and have seized two other islands off the Italian coast in a bold sweep that threatened to outflank Italy's greatest port from the north.

Procida lies west of Naples, just off the upper arm of Naples bay. From its shores, allied artillery could easily shell Naples itself.

Other allied forces captured nearby Ischia island, 16 miles west of Naples, and the island of Ponza, 65 miles northwest of Naples.

Simultaneously, the allied-controlled Algiers radio said the Germans were retreating from both ends of the 27-mile Salerno bridgehead, 20 miles south of Naples, under swiftly mounting pressure by the newly-united American Fifth and British Eighth armies.

Germans Retreat

Dispatches from allied headquarters said the 10-day-old battle of Salerno was virtually ended as the Germans swung their southern flank toward central Italy to avoid being caught in a trap between the Eighth and Fifth armies.

The nazis were still fighting strong rear guard actions, however, despite a tempest of fire from American and British warships, planes and ground troops.

A communique said Fifth army infantry plunged 12 miles inland from the bloody Salerno beaches to capture the town of Roccadaspide on the southern flank of the bridgehead.

"Allied troops now have the initiative on the Fifth army

Woman Injured In Auto Crash At 16th and K

Dorothy Tuttle, 26, 1627 C street, was injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Sixteenth and K streets at 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning, according to Police Officer Vlasnik. Mrs. Tuttle was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital and treated for cuts and bruises. The hospital reported that she was recovering and would probably be released Sunday.

Mrs. Tuttle, accompanied by another woman, was driving south on Sixteent'i, and H. B. Oquist, 2770 California Court, was going east on K street, when the two cars collided. Each driver thought the other would stop, they reported to the police.

Condemnation Law Decision To Be Asked

. . . In Supreme Court

Acting as a friend of the court, the City of Lincoln will go into the Supreme court in an effort to establish that the present condemnation laws of Nebraska conform to the constitution. Decision to enter the case was reached at a special meeting of the council held Saturday at the suggestion of Mayor Lloyd Marti.

At the special meeting the legal department was instructed to file with the high court a brief supporting the validity of the act under the constitution.

In asking the council to issue the directive to the attorneys, the mayor asserted he "feels that the municipality should have the right to condemn utility properties to protect the city's interests, even though that right may never be exercised."

Damage Foreseen

In the event the law should be declared unconstitutional, the mayor stated, irreparable damage could come to the city. One of the duties of the attorneys will be to point out to the high court how the damage could result, and what it would be.

Action by the council is the outgrowth of the high court's recently having asked for further arguments in the suit of the Consumers Public Power district to set aside a three-judge court of condemnation which had been appointed in a condemnation action at Sidney.

In asking for further arguments, the court wants to know whether certain sections of the statutes meet the constitutional requirements as to due process of law.

Decision by the council here to enter the case follows examples set by a number of other municipalities, including Omaha and Kearney, whose attorneys already have filed their briefs.

Landing Cost 2 Warships

. . . Destroyer, Tug Lost At Salerno, Navy Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—The landing of the Fifth army at Salerno cost at least two United States warships.

The 1,500 ton destroyer Rowan went down as the result of an "underwater explosion" off the Italian cost Saturday, two days after the Salerno beachhead was established, a navy communique disclosed last night.

Enemy action caused the sinking of the 1,450 ton tug Nauset in the Mediterranean Thursday, the day of the landing.

The communique also announced the loss of the USS Navajo, sister ship of the Nauset, from an underwater explosion in the south Pacific Sunday.

The sinkings brought to 117 the number of United States fighting craft lost since the war started.

No casualty reports have been received as yet from either the Rowan, which had a normal complement of 172, or the Navajo, which carried about 60 men, the navy said.

Capt. G. M. Edwards Wins Flying Cross On African Front

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—Decorations to more than 150 officers and enlisted men of United States units of the northwest African air forces, including silver stars, distinguished flying crosses and air medals, were announced today by the war department. The list included the following Nebraska men:

Distinguished flying cross:

Capt. Glen W. Edwards, route 1, Lincoln.

Bronze oak leaf cluster to air medal (posthumously):

Staff Sgt. Gerald E. Yates, Omaha.

BOND SALES TOTAL ONLY $4,080,575

. . . Speed-Up Urged

Saturday, the eighth day of the third war loan drive, found Lincoln and Lancaster county with only $4,070,575 in sales to their credit, it was announced, in an effort to arouse citizens to the seriousness of the situation.

J. R. Kinder, war finance committee chairman, said, "It is evident, from these figures, that a great many people have decided that the war is over and there is no need for them to further support it with their dollars. The third war loan is not receiving serious support in the community. There is no evidence as yet that the people in Lincoln and Lancaster county, with available funds which we know are here, are purchasing bonds in the amount necessary, if we are to raise $1,000 for each of our boys and girls in the service."

Hope was expressed at bond headquarters that the activities planned for the forthcoming week will stimulate sales to a degree that will measurably improve the chances for reaching the quota by September 30.

Voluntary Engineer Enlistments Stopped

Officers of the U. S. engineers corps at the Lincoln air base received telegraphed orders Saturday from Col. Ole G. Hoass, district engineer at Omaha, to "discontinue accepting voluntary enlistments in the engineer corps until further notice." The order, however, advised that the recruiting organization was to be retained intact, pending further information. Col. Hoass said in his telegram that he was acting in pursuance of orders received from Washington, D. C.

FREMONT DRIVER IS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

FREMONT, Sept. 18—(AP)—A District court jury yesterday found Robert Ruzicka, Fremont, guilty of manslaughter in the death of Joseph Grover, Fremont, who was fatally injured when cars driven by the two collided here May 30. Attorneys indicated the case would be appealed. Sentence was deferred until an undisclosed date.

Kearney Mayor Halts Buying Of Consumers

. . . Vetoes General Obligation Bond Sale

KEARNEY, Sept. 18—(AP)—An ordinance enacted by the city council two weeks ago, calling for the sale of $276,975 in general obligation bonds to acquire by condemnation the electric distribution system of the Consumers Public Power district, was back in the city clerk's office, today vetoed by Mayor Joe Tye.

Six councilmen can pass the ordinance over the veto, which is expected at Monday's meeting. The ordinance was passed seven to one.

Tye Explains Action.

Explaining his veto, Mayor Tye said the city administration had promoted the condemnation originally with the pledge that if the city it would be paid for by revenue bonds, not general obligation bonds, and that the administration would not issue bonds until the people voted to do so. They defeated the revenue bonds 1,431 to 883 last April.

If the bonds are to be sold, public notice should be given in order that any and all purchasers of bonds might have opportunity to bid, the mayor said, recalling that no advertising for bids preceded the recent action.

He said the exact figure required for the purchase is not known and "to proceed now may require the sale of additional bonds when the condemnation case now pending appeal is

Two Children Suffocate In Omaha Garage Fire Tragedy

. . . Found Dead In Trunk Of Car

OMAHA, Sept. 18—(AP)—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Paden, Omaha, were found dead in the trunk compartment of the Paden car after fire today destroyed the garage in which the automobile was housed.

The children, Robert, 3, and Gene Paul, 5, both had suffered third degree burns but their deaths were officially attributed not know the children were in the garage but supposed they had obtained matches and were playing with them.

Fire Department Capt. George Flannery was the first to discover the children when he broke into the garage as the flames were brought partly under control.

"There are two children in here!" he shouted to those working with him. The children were

Rites At Ogallala For Soldier Killed During Maneuvers

OGALLALA, Sept. 18—Services were held here Thursday for Pvt. Jack Koch, 22, of Roscoe who was killed recently during maneuvers near Phoenix, Ariz. Pvt. Koch, together with four other soldiers, reported to have been working on the construction of a railroad, was in a mine in which the tragedy occurred. Death was caused by asphyxiation. He had been serving with the army engineering corps since January, 1943.

Surviving are his wife, a child, his father, and several sisters and brothers.

Fires Started--of All Places!--In Two Furnaces

The weather man might take Friday's page of fire alarms and predict cooler weather with safety.

Both of the alarms had their origins in furnaces.

No damage was reported at Davidson's clothing store, 1400 O street, where a smoky furnace brought the firemen out.

At the B. F. Walker residence, 1710 South Twenty-fifth street, only slight damage resulted from an overheated motor on a furnace blower.

Dunham Fined For Reckless Driving

Frank Dunham, 1313 Q street, came to Municipal court on crutches Friday morning to plead guilty to a charge of reckless driving. He was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license was suspended 60 days by Judge Edward C. Fisher.

The charge was filed as the result of an automobile accident north of Havelock Wednesday morning in which Dunham, driving, and Glen Powell, 327 South Eleventh street, narrowly escaped death when their car crashed into a freight train.

$413 Estate Taxes Paid

A tax of $413 was paid to State Treasurer Carl G. Swanson from the estate of John F. Ammon, pioneer Lincoln resident who died on July 11, 1939. The estate was valued at $191,151.

Deductions amounted to $101,879, leaving a net taxable estate of $89,272. The county inheritance tax amounted to $614.

24 Die In Explosion

. . . At Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 18—(AP)—Naval authorities expressed fear today of an increase in the death toll of 24 caused by the disastrous ammunition blast that wrecked a section of the Norfolk naval air station. Thirteen of the 250-odd injured were reported officially to be critically hurt.

Among the dead, all naval enlisted personnel with but one exception, was Seaman Second Class Elizabeth Korensky of Philadelphia, one of the first members of the WAVES to be killed on active duty.

The navy kept mum on the cause of the area's worst disaster since the crash of the Italian dirigible Roma in 1922, with a loss of 34 lives, except to say witnesses had informed those in authority that the explosion originated in ammunition that was being moved.

Norfolk police said they had been informed that depth charges of the type carried by the navy's anti-submarine patrol bombers had exploded, and civilian sources said the blast touched off a truck cargo of aviation gasoline.

Fuel Oil Dealers Plan For Winter

The fuel oil situation as it might develop this winter was the topic of conversation when fuel oil dealers of Lincoln met at the chamber of commerce Friday afternoon.

OPA procedure was explained by Harry Wentz, head of the OPA fuel panel for Lancaster county. The purpose of the meeting was to begin plans for lining up the dealers back of the OPA program.

front," the daily war bulletin announced.

"Reinforcements continue to arrive."

Germans Take Elba.

In an apparent move to counter the allies' island-hopping sweep northward along the Italian west coast, nazi headquarters reported that German troops had occupied the historic island of Elba, scene of Napoleon's exile. The Italian garrison of 7,000 men was said to have surrendered.

Elba lies between Italy and Corsica, about 1,200 miles northwest of Rome and eight miles off the Italian coast.

Aside from the bare announcement that allied forces occupied Procida and Ponza three days ago, no immediate details were forthcoming. From Procida, the allies could spring onto the Italian mainland to establish a new bridgehead north of Naples and open a pincers drive against the big port.

The island, two miles long, is only two miles off Capo Miseno on the mainland.

On the Salerno front, dispatches said combined American and British forces of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's U. S. Fifth army were knifing deeper into the enemy's mountain defenses amid indications that the Germans were falling back toward the Naples area or even beyond.

Italians Battle Nazis

In the battle of Italy, bitter fighting was reported raging between German and Italian troops all along the Brenner rail line, vital link between Italy and Germany, and Italian patriots were said to have disrupted communications between northern and central Italy at several points.

Across the Adriatic, Yugoslav partisan troops were reported making a large scale bid for liberation along the coast from the seaport city of Split, now in patriot hands, to the Italian city of Piume 160 miles to the northwest.

Farther east in the Mediterranean, British commandos were reported by the free French radio to have landed on the island of Rhodes, in the Dodecanese group off the west coast of Turkey, and Italian troops there were aiding in the fight against the nazis.

Cousin Willy was much in demand.

One column was a surprise.

Dewey took it to Hoats.

"What's it all about?" Doc Buden asked.

WELL, we built up Cousin Willy like a motion picture the producers have lost faith in. By the time his first column appeared there was hardly anybody in town who had not heard of Colonel Effingham and his faithful dog, Rover.

Cousin Willy's personal friends were not happy about it. The Effinghams had been Cotton Row people when cotton was cotton. But he was much in demand at the more substantial tables and he knew to a mathematical certainty the Saturday afternoon chances of filling an inside straight.

He took much kidding from his old and wealthy friend, Clyde Manadue, "this old publicity hound" and that sort of thing. He had stepped a little closer to the footlights than the Fredericksville tradition gave any precedent for.

Cousin Willy enjoyed the banter and continued to write. One of his early columns surprised us by departing from the war in Europe and going back to pick up a conversation in the winter of 1735 between General Oglethorpe and one Mr. Ken O'Brien. Dewey took it to Hoats.

"I just wanted to check it," he said.

"Listen, Oglethorpe's a local boy. The way to get the most out of a feature like this is to give the guy his head."

Cousin Willy recounted in detail the firm but just manner in which General Oglethorpe had arranged for the erection of Fort Frederick and fairer dealings with the Indians.

On the whole, Mr. Hoats rather liked the local angle.

One morning round at the Municipal Building, after we had been running the column a couple of weeks, Mr. Doc Buden beckoned me over to a corner of the Sheriff's Office and asked me what it was all about. They were still a little skeptical about the Leader's new and friendly attitude.

I told him it was just a new war feature. Then I asked about progress in the city government's plan to change the name of Monument Square, originally dedicated to the Confederate dead, to Toolen Square, in honor of the late political boss.

Doc showed me a copy of the name-changing resolution the Board of Aldermen was all set to approve. He patted me good-naturedly on the shoulder. The atmosphere between the Leader and the boys of the Municipal Building was definitely becoming more pleasant . . .

Funeral Services Today For Harve Derrick, Rancher

BASSETT, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for Harve Derrick, 60, whose 12,000-acre Rock county ranch south of here was one of Nebraska's largest.

Derrick, who tried unsuccessfully several months ago to sell the ranch for $275,000 died Thursday after returning from Rochester, Minn., where he had been under treatment.

One of the founders of the Sandhill Feeder-Cattle Producers association, Derrick was a Spanish-American war veteran and had served as director of the Valentine Production Credit association.

His widow survives. Burial will be at Atkinson.

FRANCHISE

rides are continuous. An additional cent is allowed in the event of transfers. Children between 5 and 12 can ride free, and the same privilege is accorded children under 5 if accompanied by a parent or other adult.

Occupation taxes are set up on the basis of 1 per cent on the gross earnings up to $500,000. On the first $250,000 thereafter, the rate will be 1½ per cent, and 2 per cent for the second like sum. On all gross revenues over $1,000,000 the tax would be 3 per cent.

In the event the payments become delinquent, the proposed law states, interest would be charged at 1 per cent per month. If the payments become in default six months, then 5 per cent interest would be added.

Ask Trust Fund.

The company also would be required to set up a trust fund of $125,000 for pavement and street restoration. This provision covers all present, future and contingent paving and restorations having to do with lines operated by the company. The fund is to be created through deposits of $10,000 annually, the first to be made on or before December 1, 1943.

In the event that $125,000 should not be sufficient to cover the costs, then the company would be required to increase the fund in an amount sufficient to meet the added expense.

The deposits, according to the proposed city statute would be irrevocable, and irrecoverable. Should the company become bankrupt, or insolvent the franchise could be terminated. The same would be true in the event the company violate any of the provisions, especially the one fixing fares at 5 cents.

Notice of violations, along with notice of the council's intention to declare a forfeiture, must first be given to the company, before the action can obtain under the proposed franchise.

Birth Announcements

BRYAN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

CPL. and MRS. WILBUR PATTERSON, 6545 Ballard, a son, on Saturday, September 18.

ST. ELIZABETH HOSPITAL.

MR. and MRS. THEODORE E. MASER, 645 D street, a son, on Friday, September 17.

MR. and MRS. THEODORE E. STACK, 5342 Madison avenue, a son, on Saturday, September 18.

The first Lincoln girl to be graduated from the SPARs Palm Beach, Florida, training station is Miss Viola A. Helzer, who received her Yeoman certificate on September 15. Due to a final high grade in her examination of 99 and being in the upper third of her class, she has received the rating of Petty Officer third class. Petty Officer Helzer will arrive in Lincoln Monday, September 20 to spend a few days at her Lincoln home before going to her permanent assignment at Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Helzer applauded the training and courtesies she enjoyed at the Palm Beach training station which is the beautiful Biltmore Hotel that had before the war catered to the wealthy. "Each morning at 6 we SPAR trainees and "bootees" would arise from our double decker bunks and sink our toes into carpeting which once cushioned the feet of the world's wealthiest women, and it was always quite a thrill to do our calisthenics and swimming at the swanky Sun and Surf Club on the beach" said Miss Helzer. "Of course we studied hard but our instructors and oficers were very amiable and I found studying very enjoyable in these surroundings," she said.

In the Regimental Review, Miss Helzer's company, Y 5 was selected as the Honor company on September 10. Miss Helzer is a former employee in the classified department of The Lincoln Newspapers. She is a graduate of Lincoln High School and of The Lincoln School of Commerce. She will be entertained at dinner and noon luncheons while in Lincoln on her leave. She is the daughter of the late Henry G. Helzer.

Lt. Coy To Visit Parents Here On Air Corps Leave

First Lt. Donald E. Coy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Coy, 3028 Ryons street, wired his parents Friday to "prepare the guest room" and added that he would leave Portland, Ore., at once for Lincoln to spend a furlough. He did not state how long he would be able to be here.

Lieutenant Coy is in the air corps and has been serving as a navigator on a B-25 in operations in the Aleutians. He is a graduate of Lincoln high school and also of the University of Nebraska, where he was active in student affairs.

JUST A QUIET WEEK-END AT HOME

THERE is nothing unusual about a quiet late September week-end. The end of summer slump is at hand, with nothing especially exciting to anticipate in the way of an autumn season, except football activities—But even those will not be so many or so gay as in the past. Various of the after-the-game rendezvous are giving serious consideration to passing up the football dinner dances, although as yet no definite rule has been made one way or the other.

Rush week, beginning today as far as the feminine Greeks are concerned—takes its toll, and the calendar is left almost entirely party-less other than the open houses of sorority row.

But there still are guests—Mrs. R. A. Hadley of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Edward S. Chamberlain of Seattle, will arrive Sunday from Broken Bow, to remain until Tuesday as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dierks. Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Hadley came east several weeks ago because of the serious illness of Emerson Purcell in Broken Bow. Following their brief visit in Lincoln, they will return to the west coast.

And leaving last evening to return to Minneapolis was Mrs. Lowell Bruce Dwinell, who came a week ago for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jean R. Kinder, and to be an attendant at the wedding of Miss Dorothy Ann Weirich and Lieut. Warren B. Day, which took place on Wednesday.

At the Trinity cathedral, Episcopal, in Omaha today there was a wedding which will be of interest to many Lincoln people. At 4 o'clock this afternoon Miss Frances Belle York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ernest York of Liberty, became the bride of Phillip Knowlton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Smith.

The service was read by the Very Reverend Chilton Powell, dean of the cathedral in the presence of only the families and a small group of close friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Roy D. Neumeister, and Lieut. Neumeister served Mr. Smith as best man.

Both Mr. Smith and his bride are graduates of the University of Nebraska.

Willard P. T. A. Has "Get-Acquainted" Party

The Willard P. T. A. held a get-acquainted meeting Friday afternoon, honoring the mothers of new pupils. Mrs. R. R. Sexton, the president, presided at the meeting. The pupils of the fifth grade entertained with a group of stories and songs, and a community sing was held in which the mothers participated. An announcement was made on adult classes in "Feeding the Family in Wartime," which will begin on Friday, Sept. 24, and continue for ten weeks. Refreshments were served by the executive committee.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. French have received word of the birth of a son, Brian Elliott, to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wages, jr., of Hollywood, Calif., on Tuesday, Sept. 14. Mrs. Wages was formerly Miss Ruth French.

Mrs. Leland A. Wilson, who spent a fey days as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, has returned to her home from New Orleans where she had been spending some time with her husband, Sgt. Wilson, who is now stationed at Hamilton field, California.

Miss Wilma Schlager has returned to her home in Hawk Springs, Wyo., after spending the past month as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Elmer Schwartz.

Dr. Plumer, Founder Of Stock Growers Association, Dies

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 18—(AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for Dr. J. A. Plumer, 80, of Hysham, Mont., former Montana legislator and founder of the Nebraska Stock Growers association.

A native of Council Bluffs, Dr. Plumer returned here several weeks ago when he became ill after the death of his wife. He died Thursday.

He was graduated at 19 from St. Louis Medical college and studied at the University of Pennsylvania, and in Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London.

Dr. Plumer homesteaded near Hyannis, Neb., in 1888, and founded the Nebraska Stock Growers association after establishing a ranching business. Later he moved to Lincoln, Neb., and then to Montana. Burial will be at Billings, Mont. A son and daughter, of Hysham, survive.

Wayne Drops Out Of Gridiron Parade

WAYNE, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Hopes that Wayne college might be able to have a football team if enough men turned out have been definitely abandoned, Coach Ralph Ginn reported today.

Ginn, who hopes to have a basketball team this winter and plans a full sports program "when the boys come back again," said Wayne has decided to drop football for the duration because of a lack of team material.

As civilian director of physical education in the college's air force training detachment, Ginn

W. R. P. C. Club Met Friday For First Time This Year

The members of the W. R. P. C. held their first meeting of the season Friday afternoon when they met for a 1:30 o'clock dessert luncheon in the Business and Professional Women's club rooms. The hostesses were Mrs. E. P. Stoddard, Mrs. W. H. Ziegler and Mrs. J. G. Bennett. The meeting was in charge of the new president, Mrs. Wilbur Thomas, and the devotionals were conducted by Mrs. H. E. Hassinger. The program included music by the club octet, accompanied by Miss Helen Boyce and Mrs. J. M. Neely, and piano duets by Mrs. E. S. Haynes and Mrs. R. E. Snell. Roll call was answered by responses to "My Ration Vacation."

Mrs. J. W. McArthur of Lakewood, O., a former member of the group, was a guest.

PERSONALS

Miss Katherine Strauch will leave Saturday morning for Portland, Ore., where she has accepted a position with the United States National Bank of Portland.

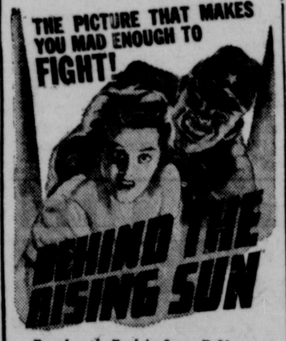

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall Brown have returned recently from Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Brown has been stationed with the U. S. armed forces at the Central Dental Laboratory. He will resume his studies at the University of Nebraska dental college. Mrs. Brown is the former Nena Ralles.

Miller Charge Rapped

. . . 'Ridiculous' Says AAA County Chief

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Rep. A. L. Miller's Washington statement that four federal agencies are "quarreling over a nickel" on the price of cleaning Nebraska's dry edible beans drew a sharp reply today from Hazen P. Stone, Scotts Bluff county AAA chairman, who asserted the Nebraska representative is "playing politics" with the issue.

"It seems to us in western Nebraska," Stone asserted, "that a man who is supposed to be representing the western end of the state would take the trouble to become better informed about the things going on out here.

"It appears to us that his only reason for even entering the controversy was purely a political one, that he has no constructive suggestions to offer and that by such releases he is only further confusing the issue."

Claim "Ridiculous."

Stone termed as "absolutely ridiculous" Miller's assertion that the WFA, CCC and AA are "fussing" about who should pay the processor for the difference between the OPA ceiling price and WFA support prices on beans.

On the contrary, Stone pointed out, the machinery for payment already has been set up, the CCC is ready to pay the bean subsidy and this in no way affected the Nebraska growers-processors controversy.

The AAA also took Miller to task for saying that "the farmers have been told about the WFA support price but not the processors" and that "all the processor has been told is that there is an OPA ceiling and he doesn't want to violate that."

"Should Know Better."

"A man in Miller's position should know better," Stone rejoined. "Bean processors as a group are very well informed and if any question comes up they have available funds to send men to Washington any time it will benefit their interests.

"It looks to us out here as if he were trying to side in with the larger moneyed interests such as are represented by bean processors and that he has spoken no word nor given any thought to helping the farmers of western Nebraska.

"This is no dispute of governmental agencies," Stone concluded, "but a dispute between the growers and processors of Nebraska—and we object to Rep. Miller or anyone else trying to becloud the issue."

BRIEF IS FILED BY PLAINTIFF IN SUIT ON CHATTEL LOANS

Brief in the suit of Nitzell company against Warren and Lyndell T. Nelson and Fred Shafer to foreclose on five chattel mortgages on coin music machines and to obtain pay for money loaned, filed in Supreme court Friday by Harry Grimminger of Custer county, combats the defendants' plea of usury and splitting a loan into five transactions to impose illegal service charges. Judge E. G. Reed of Custer county had decided the case generally for the defendants, finding that the Nitzell company was entitled to collect only $109.51. The court released $1,124.53 paid by the defendants into court as receipts from operation of the machines.

The plaintiff alleges misrepresentation of defendants' obligations when the loan was granted. The brief sets out that the seller of personal property has a right to establish a cash price and a time price and any difference between the two does not constitute usury; that purchase of a note at discount (as was done in the deal) beyond the legal rate of interest does not make the transaction usurious; and that usury cannot be set up as a defense where such defense would aid an injustice.

Regarding the latter contention the brief contends that defendant Nelson testified he knew the contract and note he signed carried an illegal finance charge hence it would be "extremely inequitable to permit Mr. Nelson to know that he had entered into an illegal contract and later permit him to come into court and take advantage of the fact which he knew prior to the time he executed the contracts."

Medals For Safe Driving Awarded 6 Mail Carriers

In ceremonies at the postmaster's office Friday morning, safe driving medals were presented to six regular mail carriers assigned to the parcel post division.

The men, who have compiled records of from two to seven years' driving without an accident, are given the medals by the postoffice department in Washington.

They are: Benjamin Workman, two years without an accident; Lawrence B. Neuman, five years; Bert Hull, six years; William Roessler, six years; Charles Gochnour, six years; Donovan Selby, seven years.

Charles M. Frost, superintendent of mails, in making the presentation stated, "It is a high honor not only to the men, but to the Lincoln postoffice, to have men with such a fine record." Postmaster O. E. Jerner, Assistant Superintendent of Mails Ralph Whyman, and George Ross, foreman

BEEMER BANKER DIES OF INJURIES

BEEMER, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Funeral services for A. J. Leuthauser, 65, Beemer banker who died at a West Point hospital yesterday as the result of injuries suffered Sept. 4 in a fall from a ladder at his home, will be held here Sunday.

Leuthauser was a former president of the Cuming County Agricultural society and of the Greater Northeast Nebraska county fairs circuit.

Lifer Retaken In Iowa After A Gun Battle

. . . At Fort Dodge

FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 18—(AP)—Four days after his daring escape from the Iowa penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for slaying a farmer, Thomas J. Runyon, former midwest hoodlum, was captured last night after a gun fight with two policemen.

Runyon's capture, effected on a quiet residential street, ended a feverish search by prison authorities and police of eastern and northern Iowa. In his apparent attempt to flee the state, the 38 year-old slayer, within 24 hours, abducted five persons. All, however, were released unharmed.

The convict, a former member of the notorious Barker and Gibson gangs which terrorized the midwest during the 1930s, escaped from the prison Monday night by digging under an electrically charged fence.

Humane Society Ends Year With $2,076.35 Cash

The Lincoln and Lancaster County Humane society closed its fiscal year 1942-43 with a cash balance on August 31 of $2,076.35, compared to $386.02 on the same date in 1943, the annual report of Supt. C. L. Loomis, filed with the city clerk, shows.

Revenues for the year were $10,967.61, and expenditures, $8,518.66.

Of the income $8,319 was shown as coming from licenses. The expenditures were listed as $4,041.74 for salaries and wages; $709.93, for administration; $1,052.50, automobile operation and maintenance; $1,352.11 maintenance and expenses at the shelter; $289.88, miscellaneous; $684 for special improvements; and $388.50 for bonds.

Revenues for the final month of the year aggregated $474.65, and expenses, $861.03.

County Agents Plan Labor Mobilization For Harvesting Corn

In preparation for getting the corn harvesting job accomplished in Nebraska, county extension agents are meeting throughout the state to plan the labor mobilization campaign.

Indications show a big demand for custom mechanical corn pickers and shuckers.

A. H. Maunders, in charge of the farm labor program for the agricultural extension service at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, reported a shortage of corn pickers in the 36 counties represented at conferences he attended this week. In the extreme eastern, southeastern and sections of south-central Nebraska where the corn yield will be fairly good, the demand is the greatest.

Despite the fact that southeastern counties will need several hundred pickers when the shucking season starts, one-half of the counties represented at the conferences reported that local help can pick the crop. Mechanical pickers from drouth-damaged areas will probably move into move favored areas to help with the harvesting.

County extension agents attending the conferences will shortly call meetings of their labor advisory committees to recommend "going wages" for the corn harvesting, Maunder said. The most commonly mentioned figure now is about 10 cents per bushel as the basic price although it will vary county by county and probably neighborhood by neighborhood.

Oak Leaf Cluster To Lt. Bob Knight

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific Area—(Delayed)—(AP)—Dangerous flights to drop supplies and transport troops to advanced positions in the southwest Pacific area have brought award of oak leaf clusters, in lieu of additional air medals, to officers and men of the fifth air force, United States army.

The citation said "These flights involved flying at low altitudes over mountainous terrain under adverse weather conditions in a transport airplane, and often necessitated landing within a few miles of enemy bases."

Among those decorated by Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the allied air forces in the southwest Pacific area, was Second Lt. Robert S. Knight, Omaha, Neb.

Omaha Lieutenant Missing In Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—The war department made public today the names of 209 United States soldiers missing in action. The list included 2nd Lt. Jack K. Palmer, Omaha, who is missing in action in the Asiatic theater.

Damage Suit Appealed

Suit for $25,000 damages against the Fremont Newspapers, Inc., by Joan Heckes by her mother, Frieda Heckes, was appealed to Supreme court by the plaintiffs. District Judge Spear of Dodge county had sustained a demurrer to the petition, holding in his opinion that a notice signed by Lovana L. Fitzsimmons and published in the Fremont Tribune on

BUDGETING OF LABOR IS CONSIDERED

. . . Baruch Plan Hailed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—Congress bent a willing ear today to a proposal by Bernard M. Baruch for the budgeting of labor to war plants, with the hope that here was the solution to the interlinked problems of manpower shortages and the draft of fathers for military service.

Baruch, adviser extraordinary to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, suggested the voluntary pooling of labor in shortage areas, with the producers of most essential military equipment getting first call on workers. His suggestion was contained in a report to Byrnes, inserted in the Congressional Record by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.)

Only Alternative.

When Baruch said such a plan might be the only alternative to a general labor draft he struck a responsive chord, particularly among members of the Truman war investigating committee who have made an intensive study of the manpower problem.

Chairman Truman (D-Mo) told reporters he hoped the Baruch plan—which Byrnes subsequently ordered into effect locally on the west coast—would obviate the necessity of enacting compulsory manpower legislation.

"I think the whole difficulty with the labor situation today lies in the hoarding of workers under these cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts," Truman declared. Baruch proposed elimination of such contracts in favor of agreements under which manufacturers would be given an incentive to hold down costs, and thus conserve labor.

The compulsory labor control idea has popped up several times in consideration of a pending bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) to postpone the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers for the remainder of this year and Baruch will be asked to tell the military committee Monday what he thinks about the [illegible]-all problem.

Jaycees Ship 35 Cases of Smokes To Yanks Overseas

More than $800 worth of cigarets have been sent to the fighting forces overseas as a result of the Jaycee "Smokes for the Yanks" campaign which ended Wednesday. A small additional purchase will be made as soon as the remaining cartons can be collected from the business firms.

The project lasted three and a half months during which time 35 cases or 350,000 cigarets were purchased for our fighting men. Fifteen cases were sent to the army in the Atlantic, 10 to the navy in the Pacific and 10 to the marines wherever they were most needed.

Collections from the Lincoln, Stuart and Nebraska theaters during the campaign amounted to $103. The Iowa-Nebraska collection was the largest one from a business firm and brought in a total of $43. The benefit baseball game between the Lincoln All-Stars and the cadets at the university brought in $83.40, and the power boat races held July 4 furnished an additional $54.

Chairman of the committee in charge was Preston Langford. He was assisted by: Bill Custer, Norman Hill, Weston Wendling, Dave Wing, Val Curtiss, Jack Wiley, Jean Colton, Lowell Sutherland, Ralph Gerberling, Claude Wilson, Pat Ash, Art Bailey, Gil Savery and Stan Sands.

4 Nazi Prisoners Retaken In Texas

TEMPLE, Tex., Sept. 18—(INS)—The last of four German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Hood Wednesday afternoon were captured and returned to internment today.

Rangers, patrolmen and military units found the last two prisoners west of Camp Hood last night. They had bleached their blue denim uniforms until they were khaki colored, while the orange letters P. and W. on arms and legs of the uniforms were almost invisible.

The men, Hans Koerber and Willhelm Vilinghft, had shaving outfits, candy, sandwiches and some civilian clothes when found.

The other two prisoners were captured near Brookhaven late Wednesday.

Captured At Altar.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 18—(INS)—Recognized as he knelt in prayer before a church altar, a German prisoner of war who escaped internment was back at Camp Chafes, Fort Smith, Ark., today.

Michael Huebinger, 33, was recognized by Lewis Classen and Claude Muzzey, garage men, in the Charleston, Ark., Catholic church.

Lonely Service Men Welcome Invitations

There are many soldiers stationed in Lincoln, at this time, who have never been away from home for any length of time before joining the army. They need and appreciate kindnesses of many kinds that can easily be shown by civilians.

Mrs. Max Meyer and her telephone committee will be glad to handle all invitations for soldiers for Sunday. Should you care to entertain any number phone: Miss Margaret Davis, 5-9390, Mrs. E. N. Buehler, 3-6407, Mrs. Frank Peterson, 3-2173, Mrs. Paul Ohlheiser, 3-4059, Mrs. V. E. Anderson, 3-4838 or the Hospitality Clearing House, 2-5419.

Herman Schaffer Reported Missing

Herman Schaffer, who formerly lived at 750 New Hampshire street, is officially reported by the navy as missing in action. His mother, Mrs. Katherine Schaffer, was unofficially notified that he was missing about six weeks ago.

Seaman Schaffer was born in Lincoln and graduated from Lincoln high school. He joined the navy about a year ago and has

Business Man 'Peps Up' Bond Drive With Personal Campaign

There really are bright spots in a war bond campaign, Chairman J. R. Kinder of the Lancaster sales committee, admits. One of these, he said, came yesterday.

A well known Lincoln business man was called into the bond office and a plan presented to him which, it was hoped, would sell substantial quantities of bonds. The work involved 67 telephone calls to be followed by 67 personal interviews.

Kinder said, "Will you undertake this job, and how much help do you want?" The business man responded, "If it is all right with you I would like to do this all by myself."

About an hour later the telephone rang with this message from the business man. "That plan of yours really seems to have appeal. I've made twenty-one calls and have fifteen appointments." When Mr. Kinder recovered his speech, he exclaimed, "Bring on some more patriots like that fellow, we can use them in this business."

Disney Travelogue Viewed By Kiwanis

Members of the Kiwanis club saw the technicolor movie "South of the Border with Walt Disney," Friday at their regular luncheon meeting at the chamber of commerce. The film, shown through the courtesy of Roderic Crane, assisting dean of the University of Omaha, was sponsored by the Public Forum of Omaha.

The cartoon travelogue is the story of the trip made by Disney and his talented crew of artists to South and Central America. The song-hit, "Brazil" is from this film which goes under the name of "Saludos Amigos."

Three Nebraskans On Wounded Rolls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP) The war department made public today the names of 228 United States soldiers wounded in action.

The list includes the following from Nebraska who were wounded in the Asiatic theater:

Corp. Lavern A. Jensen, Stapleton.

Pfc. James A. Kummer, Indianola.

Capt. William C. McIntyre, jr., Mullen.

UTILITIES ASK 'HANDS OFF' POLICY

. . . 'Rap Federal Control In States'—Swanson

Amendment of the Federal Power commission law to prevent the commission from encroaching on intra-state utility regulation was sought by the national convention of Utilities commission members in Chicago, Chairman Duane T. Swanson of the Nebraska commission, said on his return from the convention.

"Recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme court have tended to point the way of the Federal Power commission to this attitude," Mr. Swanson said. "Members of the group are anxious for a change in the law to re-define FPC authority.

"The convention postponed for a year study of a report on a uniform system of computing depreciation because of lack of time. Some commissions use the sinking fund method as in Nebraska, while others use the straight line system. The report was submitted to the convention after four-years' work by the special committee in the hope of arriving at a plan satisfactory to all.

"Invitation to meet next year in Nebraska was accepted, the date as yet undetermined. The session probably will be in Omaha."

Western delegates left early to catch trains and Mr. Swanson's nomination for second vice-president lost by a vote of 16 to 12. Chairman John D. Biggs of the Illinois Commerce commission won the office.

2 Nebraska Service Men Win Promotions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP)—The war department today announced the temporary promotions of John Andrew Merideth, Omaha, medical corps, from major to lieutenant-colonel and of Theodore Kamas, Grand Island, air corps, from 2nd lieutenant to 1st lieutenant.

AUTO DRAGGED 75 FEET, DRIVER IS KILLED BY TRAIN

OMAHA, Sept. 18—(AP)—The collision of his car and a Missouri Pacific freight train killed Sam Amato, 34, Omaha, a building and field engineer at the Martin-Nebraska aircraft plant, in Omaha last night.

Police said the car was dragged 75 feet by the train. Mark Hicks, engineer and Charles Wagner, fireman, both of Falls City, said they did not see the car until the crash, police reported.

Amato, a fancy diving champion while attending Omaha Technical high school, is survived by his widow and three children.

Giraffe Starter

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18—(AP)—Zoo Attendant John Cotton climbed aboard a 17-foot giraffe at the zoo.

How do you make a giraffe go? Cotton tied a bundle of hay on the end of a long stick and dangled it in front of his mount's nose.

It worked.

PATHS FOR A REAL GERMAN REVOLUTION

At week-end President Roosevelt directed American eyes to realities. In a few words—a few short sentences—the president said that which has been so sorely needed. From it there comes a better grasp, a more complete understanding, a full and true realization of the present global conflict. It has been charged to Hitler and the nazi regime. They are guilty of a diabolical crime against civilization. But there is something more—something infinitely more—something deeper than the interlude represented by one man's life or the lives of a group of individuals in Germany.

The Prussian Clique

That something is the Prussian tradition of militarism—a tradition not based upon defense of a people's native soil—but resting upon a seemingly unquenchable belief that armies exist for conquest, and conquest of weak and powerful nations is the rule of life in the world. That is the Prussian tradition. It is not new; it is old—as old as modern Germany is itself—as old as Bismarck and Von Moltke, the elder—as old as all the old saber-rattling, heel-clicking military leaders of Germany. It is as old as the German practice which caused thousands of German men and women—loving peace even more than native soil—to migrate to America to escape compulsory service in the German armies. That is how old it is in American consciousness—and it is older than that on the blood-stained soil of Europe.

What We Are Fighting

Millions of Americans, with German blood in their veins, will recognize the Prussian military clique to which Mr. Roosevelt referred. Sensibly, they fled from it, when the plain facts demonstrated over and over again there was not the will, the purpose, or the leadership in Germany to smash and crush it and to free the German people of its tyranny. Each German boy must be trained for war. Boys and girls alike were brought up in the gospel that there comes a time when it is their destiny to spill blood all over a continent, or several continents in order to establish the claim to a super-state, and a super-race. The tasks of peace—the fields, the mines, the factories, and the arts—they were alright for lesser peoples but the battlefields were to be built by a conquering Germany.

Routine of Life

In the scheme of things a German boy could look forward to devoting three years of his life to the army, where he would learn to kill, and to kill is the glory of Germany, when Germany became powerful enough to tear from others the resources Germany desired. Through the days of Bismarck, Von Moltke, the late kaiser, the post-war years, and the rise of Hitler, the Prussian tradition flourished in bad weather and in good, nursed and tended carefully by the German army group.

Not For A Day Nor A Year

As a war nation, it has been unsatisfying, and inaccurate to speak solely of Hitler and the fascist regime. They have made war more terrible than it ever has been before. They introduced a ruthlessness to it, an awfulness in total war that made Europe a primitive continent of barbarism. Their treatment of occupied countries, conquered nations, and defeated civilian populations has been one of the blackest stories of more than two centuries of history. But Hitler is a man living only the short years allotted to a man; fascism represented a new world order bound inevitably to disappear under its own brutality unless it succeeded first in conquering a free world. The Prussian military tradition has not been limited by time—it has come down from one generation to another.

Must Be Uprooted

It must be uprooted, the president says in the report to the nation given in the form of a special message to congress. It must be destroyed just as fully as Hitlerism and fascism must be destroyed. What shall it profit the peaceful nations of the world to destroy Hitler, and his fascist government, and leave intact the roots of the Prussian military clique? What good will it do the peaceful peoples to lick Germany, disarm Germany, and police Germany for a spell, when the moment that vigilance is relaxed, if ever, the roots of the Prussian military clique again sprout and begin to grow? We can take arms from Germany. We can confiscate her navy, her tanks and her planes, and her guns. We can say that they shall not be replaced. But while we are doing it, why not dig up the roots, and destroy the roots so that never again shall they slaughter millions of people with a war of conquest.

As To Japan

Japan presents even a more impressive problem. It is ruled by an absolute monarch. He is the life, the spirit of the Japanese people. and his authority streams down through the centuries. Around him there has been always a group of militarists. They have planned and plotted and dreamed of making Japan ruler of the Orient, and ultimately ruler of the world. They have bent the energies of an industrious people fully and completely to that end. So Japan must be licked, stripped of the mandated islands she received, driven from the conquered territory she has grabbed, and never again shall she be permitted to become a military power in the world.

Out In the Open

Those are the actual realities of this war. They have been the realities since the beginning. They have been the thing that people recognize but did not talk about. They have been a part of the unmentionables. They should be presented, deliberated upon, and recognized for what they are because there can be no genuine permanent peace until they are accounted for. Back of the temporary interludes of Hitler, of fascism, and of the axis partnership are the Prussian military traditions and an even clearer Japanese military tradition. At the peak of their strength it was just as well, perhaps, not to talk about them then. Now it is time to talk about them even though the immediate effect may be to stiffen German resistance.

Out of Their Jobs

Of course the German officers are going to be out of their jobs. It has been their life. And in the loss of their jobs as officers they are going to have to till the soil, work in the factories, take their places among the workers of all nations instead of walking about in their uniforms, putting hundreds of thousands of German youth through daily drills, studying maps, and planning wars. They are going to have to work and the easy peacetime life that has been their existence will disappear. The German who has made the army his career and his idol enters upon a new existence when the Prussian military tradition is smashed. And for a time he may fight with renewed strength and grim determination to avoid a sentence which the world has passed upon him. Mr. Roosevelt said only what many have been thinking. He put into words what everyone has known from the beginning. Fascism in the military sense, apart from civilian life, was only an acute attack of Prussian military tradition. And fascism fitted in so magnificently with it.

So Near to Victory

The allies came periously near to a defeat in a battle that got underway as the week dawned. On Wednesday evening in the gathering dusk some of Kesselring's soldiers were only three miles from the Mediterranean waters which lapped the shores of the Italian mainland in the Salerno area. They had all but driven a wedge in between portions of the American fifth army, and the British fighting with it. It was a dangerous development that readily could have represented a grave but not by any means fatal setback. It might have cost much more than it did, and the cost has been heavy.

Hot On the Heels

Between nightfall Friday and Wednesday dusk there had been a profound change in the Salerno battlefield. Montgomery's British Eighth army had driven madly north along the Italian coast to join forces with the Americans. And the American Fifth army, turning furiously upon its tormentor, had knocked the stuffings out of the Germans. There is a lot of fighting still to be done. Some of it may prove even more difficult than the classic struggle which the American Fifth army waged at Salerno. For inside Italy, only a few miles from the coast for much of its entire length the Italian peninsula is mountainous, and much of the mountains are timbered heavily. Those timbered slopes make the airplane and the tank, where the invaders hold the greatest advantage, of little value. It will be more difficult to blast the Germans out of such positions, solely by airpower. It is essentially the infantry's job, and the infantry's job invariably is a costly one.

Gains For Russia

The week has been Russia's greatest seven days. Immediate effects of the fighting in Italy are now observable. Hitler has had to move men and equipment west. He has had to strip his Russian reserves. And Stalin's armies, capitalizing upon weakened German positions have surged forward at an amazing speed, relieved of the necessity of regrouping forces, proceeding cautiously to build up new equipment and supplies, and taking the precautions of rest essential in a long, hard driving offensive. There is no telling where this Russian offensive will slow down in its momentum. It would have been long ago except for the Italian surrender and invasion.

Work of Medical Corps

A letter from a young protege of mine tells something of life in the army. He is a medical officer in a large camp and he says the motto of the medical corps is, "Do the impossible routinely." He supposes things will go along the way they are going and then get worse. It is always the privilege of the soldier to grouse.

This doctor who was showing promise of becoming one of the best endocrinologists in the country says that most of his work consists in reclassifying misfits who should never have been allowed in the army in the first place—a statement which confirms my remarks of yesterday about the number of nervous and mental breakdowns induced by army life.

The medical corps seems to be doing magnificent work in this war, greatly improving the record of the last conflict. We have just received some of the reports on the Tunisian campaign.

Air Transportation.

Most of the good results are ascribed to transportation of the wounded by air. In France in 1914-1918 the wounded were often treated in dressing stations and evacuation hospitals for days before transportation to a base was available, and then the trip was made in a jolting ambulance over rough and congested roads. The result was the casualty often reached the base in shock and the mortality rate was correspondingly high. In a British hospital in France in 1917 there were 1,300 severely wounded of whom 113 died. In Tunisia this year a similar hospital had 1,500 severely wounded of whom five died.

The transportation was accomplished by the use of planes carrying 18 stretcher cases, accompanied by doctor and nurses. In April 7,000 were thus transported to base hospitals. The planes are also used to carry medical supplies promptly up to the front line.

Remarkable Achievement.

A remarkable achievement was to fly the whole of a small general hospital to American troops isolated in enemy country.

A surgeon with parachute troops broke his leg above the knee in landing. He concealed the injury for three weeks during which he perfected a number of major operations, giving himself local anesthetics in between. That, ladies and gentlemen, is intestinal fortitude.

There has been no lockjaw and little of the gas gangrene so prevalent in the last war and sepsis has been kept down to a minimum by the use of the sulfa drugs.

When the full statistics are published it is calculated that they will astonish the world.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

P. H.:—How many calories in a Coca-cola? How many calories is a person allowed to keep the same weight?

Answer: Sixty calories in a bottle of Coca-cola—10 to the ounce. The number of calories needed to maintain weight depends on your age, your weight and the amount of work you do. For an adult doing moderate work, it is about 15 calories a pound.

H. M. L.:—My mother is 60 years of age and is troubled with bunions. Is the operation for this successful? How long would she be in bed?

Answer: The operation usually gives great relief. She should be in bed or chair for several weeks.

M. E. R.:—What is the treatment for impetigo skin eruption?

Answer: Impetigo is a pus infection of the skin and germicides, such as ammoniated mercury ointment, are used.

N. L.:—What is the difference between milk leg and thrombosis? Does it follow an operation? Can it be cured or will the leg continue to swell?

Answer: There is no difference. Thrombasis—that is the formation of a clot—in the femoral vein of the leg causes the leg to swell, which is called milk leg. It follows operation in a very small percentage of cases. With plenty of rest it subsides and the leg does not go on swelling.

E. T. W.:—Does taking mineral oil daily cause excessive hair to grow on the face and body?

Answer: No.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Off to See the Great World

Youth is eager, unafraid;
Age has learned the price that's paid.
—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit was scampering toward the Smiling Pool as fast as he could go, and Peter can scamper fast when he really sets out to. He had just heard a rumor. A little bird had told him. Pied Bill the Grebe, Mrs. Pied Bill and the six young Pied Bills, now more than half grown, were about to leave the Smiling Pool. That is what the little bird had told him. Peter wanted to see them once more before they left. He knew that he might never see them again, the young anyway. Father and Mother might return another year to nest, but not the young. Peter had long ago learned that to the young of most of his feathered neighbors a neighborhood is home only until they can leave it, and they do not return, not to stay anyway.

Welcome Robin explained it to Peter this way. "You see," said he, "the Old Orchard where Mrs. Welcome and I built our nest every year is our home neighborhood. We know every tree and leaf and stick and blade of grass there. We know that there is food enough there for ourselves and the children we raise each year while we are raising them. But if those children reemained there, or came back to it the next spring to raise families of their own, there soon wouldn't be food enough to go around. There would be too many Robins in one place. So when the young go out into the Great World they do not return. They find mates and each pair finds a neighborhood where no other Robins are nesting, and this becomes their home neighborhood where they can raise their children. It is just so with other feathered folk."

When Peter reached the Smiling Pool the Pied Bills were still there. "Is it true," he cried, "that you are leaving the Smiling Pool?"

Pied Bill nodded. "We'll soon be on our way," said he.

"But why so soon? It isn't time to go South, or wherever it is you spend the winter," cried Peter.

"The Smiling Pool is no longer big enough, so we are going over to the Big River where there is plenty of room for the children coming down on land," spoke up Mrs. Pied Bill.

"Is it true,' 'he cried, "that yu are leavin gthe Smiling Pool

"What if one did? All he would have to do would be to rest and then fly back to the water," said Peter. "That is what Mrs. Quack does."

Mrs. Pied Bill shook her head. "It couldn't be done," she said.

"What couldn't be done?" asked Peter.

"Getting into the air from land," replied Mrs. Pied Bill. "In order to fly we Grebes need to be on the water."

"We don't like land," spoke up Pied Bill. "We are about as helpless there as you would be out in the middle of the Big River. Our legs are too short and too far back for walking. They were given us for swimming. It is time we were moving on. Good by, Peter Rabbit."

Pied Bill dived. Mrs. Pied Bill dived just behind him. One after another the six young Pied Bills dived. All came up at the lower end of the Smiling Pool where the Laughing Brook goes on its way to the Big River. Pied Bill waved good by. So did Mrs. Pied Bill and each of the young Pied Bills. At least Peter liked to think that they waved good by. Anyway they raised their wings and flapped them just before moving out of sight down the Laughing Brook.

Down the Laughing Brook out onto the Big River Pied Bill led the way. Excitedly the young Pied Bills followed. They were out in the Great World! At least that is the way they felt, and in a way they were. Here was deep water in which to practice diving. Here they could learn to use their wings ing Pool, but would they miss the Smiling Pool? Not they! The Great World was before them and they were unafraid. It was well that it was so.

PLEA FOR FORCE.

Oh, bitter may the war become,
Much bitter than before,
That sooner may the final drum
Sound peace forevermore.

Against our mad, misguided foes
Our mightiest forces send,
And swift and furious be their blows
That sooner war may end.

Grant them no rest by day or night
Where massed are tyrant powers,
But rather to our utmost fight
Till victory is ours.

The greater now the force we raise
For land and sky and sea,
The sooner will come happier days;
The sooner peace will be.

Multicolor Hat

By ANNE CABOT.

One 2-ounce skein of multicolored wool produces a hat that accents all your dark fall and winter clothes. Wool shaded from lime to deep yellow with traces of deep green, purple and blue was used for the model. It sounds a bit wild, but isn't—it's gay and dashing. Of course you can make it in a solid color, but I highly recommend a skein of any sort of multicolor wool for the hat.

To obtain complete crocheting instructions for the Multicolor Hat (Pattern No. 5630) send 10 cents in COIN, YOUR NAME and ADDRESS and the PATTERN NUMBER to Anne Cabot, Lincoln Star, 530 So. Wells, Chicago. Enclose 1 cent postage for each pattern ordered.

Besides her husband Mrs. Currie is survived by a son, a daughter, her father, and several brothers and sisters.

League Officers To Meet At Fremont

Dr. G. E. Condra, president of the Nebraska division of the Izaak Walton league, has called a meeting of the officers and directors to be held at Fremont, beginning at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. It is his hope that a large number of chapter members will also attend.

The meeting, to be at the Pathfinder hotel, is being held in lieu of the state convention. Officers will be elected, and there will be a discussion of continuing conservation activities. Dr. Condra and others who attended will report on the national convention.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

AP-F

Chapter 29.

Sue was still smiling when half an hour later she came to the desk where Bette was forcing herself to check charts.

"Bette, dear," and before she could stop her, Sue was on her knees, her head buried in Bette's lap. "Forgive me, can you?"

Bette just raised the girl's head, put her arms about her slim shoulders. "Of course, Susie."

"I—I tried to run away from myself this morning—I was so ashamed of what I had done, of what I had said. I've been rotten selfish, Bette. I knew you loved him right from the start. And I just wanted to take him away from you. And when I couldn't, it made me—furious.

"Please, honey. Let's not talk—"

"But I want to talk about it. I must tell you, Bette," Sue looked up at her, eyes fathoms deep with something strangely unlike the old Sue. "I've done everything I could—pulled all my tricks to try to make him look at me instead of at you, Bette. I thought I knew men. But not Scott. He's talked to me, walked across the Post with me—not for myself, but because through me he could pick up news of you. You were always too busy, so self-sufficient, he probably thought you weren't interested. But I knew you were. And it irked me that the one intelligent, swell man I'd ever met was the one who wouldn't eat out of my hand. I know why, now, Bette."

Bette pressed her own flushed cheek against Sue's. "Why, dear?"

"Because I don't deserve the love and loyalty of a really fine strong man. I've been selfish and silly. The only men who've ever made love to me were selfish and silly, too. But, I've changed now, Bette. Out there in the woods this morning when I thought I wasn't going to get back alive, I thought about a lot of things.

"I'm going to start all over, now. Beginning with being a better nurse. I know I can be. I think it was that, partly, that brought me back from that ship last night. I am going to make good, Bette." The younger girl looked up at her sister, her eyes shining. "Then maybe someday some man as wonderful as your Scott will love me."

Bette, tears streaming down her face now, hugged the girl fiercely. "I know he will, Sue. I'm so glad. I'm so glad. You've given me back happiness, dear. Someday you'll have it for yourself. It's just that it has taken you a long time to grow up."

Sue nodded, kissed Bette's cheek as she rose, smoothed out her clean uniform. Then, a truly affectionate smile on her lips, she glanced out the window just across Bette's desk. "Here comes someone to see you. Better powder that shiny nose."

Scott came in just as Sue closed the door behind her. Bette only had time to whisk her tears out of sight. Then, trembling, she stood up, faced him.

He looked at her for a long moment, feasting his eyes, a tender little smile flickering about his lips.

"Hello, darling," he said quietly, and reached for her.

"Hello—darling," she echoed, and walked into his arms.

Moments later when they could speak again, he said, his lips against her hair, his arms still holding her tight, "'Bette, we have orders we're leaving in an hour."

She stiffened. "Leaving?"

"Yes. One of our patrols just brought in Paul Porter—which takes care of that little piece of business—but there's something else we've got to take care of. A swarm of us are taking off to soften up that Jap base. Then the boys will follow your trail over the mountain and really clean it out."

"Oh!" Not that she hadn't expected it, of course. But coming so soon after—coming right now when—

He tipped her face up so he could look into her eyes. "Will you marry me, Bette. Right now?"

"Now?" Dazzed, she just looked at him.

"I know it sounds crazy. But I think if I could call you Mrs. Scott MacQuaid just once before I left, I'd be more sure of coming back."

"But—how could we? I mean—we'd have to have a license and a—"

Scott shook his head. "Just the Chaplain. I've asked him about it already and he's consented. It wouldn't be much of a wedding, honey, and I'm darned selfish to ask you but—"

Bette slipped her arms around his neck. "It would be a lovely wedding, Scott."

THE END.

Ogallala Pilot On Record Round Trip To Germany

A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, Sept. 18—(AP)—Pilots at this great American Flying Fortress base in England have just established a brilliant new record, carrying out a 1,600-mile round trip to cognac and returning from the 11-hour bombing mission after dark last night without a single battle scar.

The attack was directed against the German fighter plane assembly base at Cognac, which is in the Bordeaux region, and was the longest Fortress misison ever carried out in this theater. More than a score of planes from this base alone participated.

The powerful thrust deep into occupied France met relatively little opposition from the hard-pressed German air force or from ground defenses. The enemy planes that did rise to challenge the Fortresses either did not try to penetrate the virtual wall of lead thrown around the formation or were cut down by it.

One Me-109 plummeted into the sea shredded by so many Fortress bullets that not one gunner in the formation was able to claim the kill.

Capt. U. S. Adams of Ogallala, Neb., pilot of the Fortress "house of Lords," said:

"There must have been 400 guns trained on that guy, who just tried to be too smart for his own good.

Judgment Asked In Wool Rate Error

An error in computing the 100-weight freight charge, so that Gale Walton, of Fillmore county, was undercharged for a shipment of wool, caused the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company to ask a judgment of $35.73 for the balance allegedly due them, according to a complaint filed in Federal court.

A rate of $1.87 per 100-weight instead of $2.88, the price registered with the interstate commerce commission, was charged.

Manpower Problem Topic of Air Show Over KFAB-KFOR

B. F. Ogden, Lincoln area director of the War Manpower Commission, announced that Nebraska's manpower problems and the measures being taken to solve them would be the theme of a radio show to be broadcast Sunday over all stations on the Nebraska net-work from 12:30 to 12:45 p. m. The program may be heard locally over stations KFAB and KFOR.

Home Front Pledge To Defeat 'Black Market' Is Popular

The home front pledge campaign to eliminate black markets and keep down inflation is gaining momentum in Lincoln every day according to Mayor Lloyd Marti, honorary chairman of the civilian defense committee which is sponsoring the drive. Approximately 3,140 signed pledges have already been turned in at the office or sent in by mail, he said.

Persons interested in the progress of the drive may keep track of the exact number of signers by watching the figures on the billboard of the little white house at the city hall.

When signing the pledge, individuals agree to "pay no more than top legal prices and accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps."

Fraternal Groups Make Hospitality Plans For Soldiers

Lincoln's 80 fraternal societies, co-operating with the volunteer office of the municipal defense council in entertaining soldiers stationed in or near the city, are making plans for their activities during the remainder of the fall and winter. Since it has been learned from the soldiers, themselves, that they prefer "much friendliness" to expeensive or elaborate parties it is believed that hospitality offered by the fraternal groups will lean to friendliness rather than extensive affairs.

However, where the choice is for meals by large or small groups, and extra ration points are required they may be obtained by calling the clearing house at 2-5419.

At a meeting of representatives of the fraternal groups at the Y. M. C. A., the delegates were informed that their affairs are to be held on Fraternal Sundays, September 26 and October 24, and continue every four weeks thereafter. However, organizations may, if they desire, entertain during the evenings of the week prior to the designated Sundays.

The necessity of each organization entertaining every four, eight or twelve weeks was stressed at the conference. Dr. Rosalie Crabtree, and Sam Poska, co-chairmen of the fraternal group, presided.

September Assistance Budget Up $127,404

The state assistance payments jumped to $413,723 during September, or $127,404 greater than they had been during the preceding month, State Director Neil C. Vandemoer annouped today. The increase was attributed to the raised budget standards.

Governor Griswold Asks 'Constitution Week' Observance

In commemoration of the enactment of the original constitution of the United States and as a pledge of rededication to its principles, Governor Dwight Griswold issued a proclamation Friday designating the week beginning September 17 as Constitution week.

Pointing out that September 17 marks the one hundred and fifty-sixth anniversary of the enactment of the immortal document, Governor Griswold declared, "I do hereby proclaim the week commencing September 17, 1943, as Constitution week, and respectfully request all citizens of the state of Nebraska to give thought and observance to the privileges enjoyed by reason of the freedom, liberty and justice founded in the Constitution of the United States of America, and to lend their support for a speedy and successful conclusion of the present war that these principles might be preserved to us and our posterity for all time to come."

Fairmont Creamery May Enlarge Plant

Because of the growth of the dairy industry in Lincoln, the FFairmont Creamery Co. is contemplating an expansion of its facilities here, on North Forty-eighth street in University Place, through an addition to the present plant. Completion of the proposed program, however, will depend altogether on whether priorities on needed materials can be cleared, according to Merrill Koser, local manager.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By Prof J. D. Flint

A man whose hobby was building model railroads ran into a funny thing one day while he was working with his miniature railroad system.

The model trainman had an elaborate little unit of his system which consisted of a plain, cross-shaped piece of track which had a terminal unit at each of the four points and a signal tower at the intersection. In addition to this the model trainman had two secondary terminal units opposite each other and each located midway between two terminal units at the ends of the cross-shaped piece of track. From these secondary terminal units ran little spur tracks toward each other, stopping at the intersection where the signal tower was located.

All of the terminal units (six of them) and the signal tower had numbers on them to fit into the pattern of the whole system and the model trainman noticed that where any three numbers were in line with each other they added up to twelve. All of the numbers were single digits. There were five such combinations. Can you place the numbers?

Volunteer Workers Contribute 3,689 Hours To OPA Work

More than 120 public school teachers, both active and retired, have devoted a total of 2,931 hours of volunteer service in the preparation of "A" gasoline books, A. J. Bailey, chairman of the war price and ration board said.

Assisting in the same work were 41 members of the Business and Professional Women's club and the women's division of the chamber of commerce. They put in 164 hours. Nearly 600 hours were contributed by a group of teeer work were contributed by the various groups, Mr. Bailey said. Figured on the basis of a 40-hour week, the total volunteer labor involved would amount to more than 92 weeks, or in excess of 23 months. The job carried out by these women was under the direction of the chief clerk of the board.

"Volunteers are important to the success of the OPA program," Mr. Bailey stated, "because the war-time job of stabilizing prices and rationing goods is so vast that it can succeed only with the active support of the community. At present time the board is in need of volunteer workers to assist in the issuance of sugar

Chicago Wheat Close Uneven

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—(AP)—Grain futures held within an extremely narrow range today, but the undertone was firm.

Cash interests were active wheat buyers at times, but operations were light. Brokers said this was partly because cash wheat is selling at prices equal to the ceiling on flour and there is a lack of broad milling demand. Winnipeg wheat was higher, with export buyers reported in the market. Oats were firm on good shipping demand and feeder demand for grains generally continued heavy.

Wheat closed ⅛c lower to ¼c higher, September $1.48⅜, December $1.48⅞, oats were unchanged to ⅛c up, September 77⅝ and rye was ⅛ off to ⅜c up, September $1.06⅛.

$250,000,000 Taxable Wages Seen For Year

. . . State Record Set

State payrolls, which are subject to the law, will reach an all time high this year of an estimated 250 million dollars, Robert T. Malone, state placement and unemployment insurance director, announced Saturday.

A second record will be set during the year, Malone estimated, with benefits from unemployment insurance falling to $250,000 as against a high year of 1940 when they amounted to $1,840,000.

The construction and manufacturing industries of the state have contributed, for the main part, to the increase in "subjected" wages, Malone said.

He explained that "subjected wages" only include those of plants employing more than eight people and salaries up to $3,000 annually.

The insurance benefits that are being paid out are going to scattered groups, with every indication pointing out that competent persons of working age are not drawing the benefits, he concluded.

Community Sing, Square Dancing To Be Continued

Dropping temperatures will not stop the open air community sing, and square dancing program scheduled for Saturday evening at the muny game center, Twenty-second and M streets.

The sing will start promptly at 8 o'clock, followed by the dancing at 8:30. Mrs. Margaret Paulson will be at the piano for the songfest, and Mrs. Jack Leonard's orchestra will play for the light fantastic, "under a full moon."

Open to the public, civilians and service men are invited to attend, as well as beginning dancers. The dances are sponsored by the business and professional girls' committee of the Y. W. C. A. health and education

Gains Range To 2 Points

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(AP)—Broad buying demand gave the stock market another lift today, its fourth in a row, with dealings the liveliest for a Saturday in about two months.

The list, piloted by prominent industrials and rails, resumed the swing at the opening. The ticker tape speeded up during the first hour. There were subsequent slow-downs as profit taking put brakes on the rise but gains of fractions to 2 or more points were widespread near the close. Transfers for the short stretch were around 700,000 shares.

As in the preceding session, sentiment was buoyed by the consistently good war news, passing of the mid-September tax payment date, hopes for constructive congressional legislation pertaining to business, and the outlook for the big government bond drive going over the top before the end of the month.

Aircrafts and other recently depressed armament issues revived in the wake of the president's warning that the world conflict still had a long way to go. Peace groups, however, maintained their popularity on the idea that victory was only a matter of time. The aviation section was bolstered by opinions that it may have been oversold.

American & Foreign Power and Worthing pump stocks, fast climbers Friday, took a rest.

Among favorites touching peaks for 1943 or longer were Goodrich and Sears Roebuck. Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, Graham-Paige, Anaconda, Johns-Manville, Armour, Radio Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake & Ohio and Western Union.

Reorganization rail bonds exhibited strength.

Two Grand Island Base Officers Get Achievement Medals

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Extraordinary achievements performed on active duty in the south Pacific war theater theater in the early months of the war have brought newly-bestowed decorations on two men stationed at the Grand Island army air base.

The medals were awarded at a public ceremony here yesterday that included a parade of personnel and equipment from the air base and the Cornhusker ordnance plant.

Capt. John C. Nissen, Oklahoma City, Okla., received the Distinguished Flying Cross for successfully completing bombing missions as a B-17 pilot and the Oak Leaf Cluster for 200 additional hours of combat duty.

To Master Sgt. Hubert M. Stratton, , Cameron, Mo., went the D. F. C. for 200 hours on operational flight missions, and the Silver Star for his work as an aerial gunner when his bomber was attacked by four Japanese Zeros. Two were knocked down, enabling the croppled bomber to return to its base.

Lt. Col. Robert E. Northcutt, commanding officer of the Ninth heavy combardment processing

Lincoln Youth, 17, Loses Left Hand In Rail Accident

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Hospital attaches said today most of the left hand of La Moine Beaver, 17, Lincoln, had been amputated after the youth, a member of a Burlington railroad survey crew working in the Nebraska City yards, had his hand crushed beneath a car yesterday.

Beaver, who lives at 3904 St. Paul street in Lincoln, had started to pass a chain under a car loaded with piling when the switch engine moved the car, crushing his hand.

Engineering department officials of the Burlington, at Lincoln, out of which department LaMoine Beaver worked, said Saturday that the youth had been with the company for about six months. He is a graduate of Northeast high school and lives with his father, W. H. Beaver and grandmother, Mrs. Ollie Beaver, at the St. Paul street address. He was described as an ambitious, efficient worker, quite popular with his superiors and fellow employes.

The accident occurred while Beaver was holding a tape beneath a freight car against a rail, for measurement. Another freight car, shunted from considerable distance, bumped the string to which the first car was attached and moved it about three feet. Before young Beaver could withdraw his hand, the wheel crushed it. He still retains a thumb, it was said.

Sammy Pires, Italy Prisoner, Is 'Homesick'

. . . He Writes Friends

A letter from a former Lincoln flying student, Sgt. Sammy Pires, bombardier, was received by the William Wood family, 2734 South Ninth street, after months of silence from the young, energetic flier. He is a prisoner in Italy . . . and a mighty homesick one, at that.

The letter, plainly marked as one from a prisoner of war, plaintively inquiries why no one has written, though the Woods family has faithfully written each week to the young man.

Sammy mentions in his letter that he has found a friend hailing from Omaha, and the pair have discovered mutual acquaintances.

He writes, with comparative freedom from censorship, that it is hard to live in such a small place with so many men coming from every section of the world. He says the stoves, made from tin cans, would put American sheet metal workers to shame. Also, he says, "we are lucky to get a full night's sleep.

"There's nothing to do but sit in the sun on warm days, or lie in bed on cold days," he wrote.

But the meaning of the entire letter is highlighted in one brief

Petty Officer Reynolds Here, Tells of Historic Meetings

. . . At Roosevelt, Churchill Conferences

On the scene at two of President Roosevelt's conferences with Churchill, Chief Petty Officer N. B. Reynolds includes places even more distant than Africa and the north Atlantic in his list of travels.

In the navy for six years, he has circled the globe, with China, Panama and Greenland among his many visits.

Now on leave, he is visiting his wife and daughter in Pawnee City, and friends in Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Oxley, 3050 Puritan avenue.

It was Reynolds' ship that took the President to his North Atlantic meeting with Britain's prime minister. And at Casablanca, Reynolds' ship was second of the American fleet to steam into the harbor. During the invasion of North Africa, his ship was third on the coast line.

There were frequent shore leaves for him in Casablanca, for his ship was there for six months. No matter how much gold braid an American admiral's uniform sports—and there was much of that in evidence—they are outshone by Moroccan uniforms, in Reynolds' opinion.

While he was there, the Sultan of Morocco made an official inspection of the American ships. "That was a sight!" says Reynolds.

Dress Uniforms

"They had a rug run all the way down to the dock, and to the ships. We all had to wear dress uniforms, whether the Sultan was coming aboard our ship or not. Then those gaudy Moroccan uniforms made a show. The Sultan brought along just about everything for that tour except his wives."

Of Casablanca, Reynolds says, "It's just like any far eastern city —dirty. Their public buildings are nice, but the rest is crowded, like our slums."

Chief Reynolds is on his way to Miami, to the subchaser center. "Next thing I know," he says, "I'll probably be running a section base in New Caledonia." And that seems to please him.

Youngsters Feature of Horse Show

. . . Held at Bennet

Displaying spectacular horsemanship and fine horses, the Bennet horse show drew more than 5,000 horse fanciers Friday night.

Riders under 17 and 14 years of age who appeared in many of the events came through with some fine performances. Winner in the junior jumping class, under 16 years, was "Over Again" ridden by Leslie Loomis, Jr., of Lincoln. Taking top honors in the junior pleasure class, under 17 years, was "Sonny Boy" ridden by John Boomer. Young Audrey Malloy of Bennet took first place in the local saddle pony class, under 14 years.

Enthusiastically received by spectators were the winners in the adult classes: Open three gaited class, "Sonny Boy," owned and ridden by John Boomer; open stock and saddle horse class, entry owned by Mike Buell of Hickman; open five-gaited class, "Dare's Satin," owned by Lilac Farm of Bennet and ridden by Frank Malloy of Bennet.

Flag Presentation.

One of the features of the evening was a flag presentation ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hudson. Riding "Fan Ardo" and "Golden Mentor," their perfectly matched Palamino mounts which are parade horses, they each carried 6-foot silk flags in holders that were attached to the beautiful silver studded saddles. The Hudsons are scheduled to repeat their performance at Saturday night's show.

Walking away with grand championship honors in the mule class Friday afternoon was the animal exhibited by Clarence Moss of Walton; showing the grand champion jack mule was James Jones of Bennet.

The outstanding grand champion team, shown by Jim Doolittle of Roca, won in the lightweight class and then out-pulled the heavyweight class, winning team by Leach & Brethower of Adams. Doolittle's winning team pulled 4,720 against 4,480 by the team from Adams.

Colorful Program.

Mrs. Lourene Wishart of Lincoln, secretary to the Bennet Horse Show and Agricultural association, predicted that the events Saturday evening would be even more colorful as they were planned to climax the events of the two days. All classes scheduled to show will be under saddle or fine harness.

Winners in Friday night's show:

Junior jumpnig class: 1st place, "Over Again," Leslie Loomis Jr., Lincoln; 2nd place, "Sonny Boy," John Boomer, Lincoln; 3rd place "Buddy Boy," Leslie Loomis Jr.; 4th place, "Little Boy Blue," Clyde Henson, Lincoln.

Woman Released On Bond After Arrest In Auto Death Case

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Scottsbluff police Chief Jim Hedge said Mrs. Bess Hamburger, Gering, had been freed on $100 bond on an intoxication charge in connection with the death yesterday of J. B. Perrine, 71, Scottsbluff.

Hedge said Perrine was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Hamburger as he crossed a street Wednesday night. His death was Scotts Bluff county's fifth 1943 traffic fatality.

County Attorney Straight Townsend said some action would probably be taken in the case today.

FUEL OIL TRUCKS RESTRICTED BY NEW OCD RULING

Continuing his effort to conserve motor equipment, Joseph B. Eastman, director of OCD, has issued under date of Sept. 10, and effective that date, an order prohibiting any person from "making, or causing to be made any call by a petroleum tank truck for a purpose other than the loading or delivery of liquid petroleum products in bulk." The only exceptions are "calls for the purpose of picking up materials if the pickups are made by a tank truck while operated for any of the foregoing purposes — loading or delivery of petroleum products in bulk—and without adding to the mileage of such trucks."

A copy of the order, received by W. S. Whitten, chamber of commerce traffic manager, defines fuel oil, and motor fuel. Mimeographs of the directive have been sent to the 17 distributors here, by the chamber of traffic and transportation division.

NEBRASKA YOUTH COUNCIL REVIVED AT JOINT SESSION

Under the auspices of the education commission of the Nebraska Council of Churches and Christian Education, a meeting was held in the Y. W. C. A. Saturday morning, for the purpose of reorganizing the Nebraska Youth council, dormant for the last few years.

Hastings Flying Fortress Officer Rescued From Sea

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 18—(AP)—Too close to the nazi-held French shore to fire signal flares after being forced down, ten flying fortress crew members spent 19½ hours in wave-tossed dinghies before being rescued, it was disclosed here.

This group included Flight Officer Paul E. Perceful of Hastings, Neb., the co-pilot.

Their bomber, the "Kathy Jane," was over France returning from a raid on Stuttegart when one of the engines quit. Two other engines sputtered out at the French coast.

Nursing the plane as far from the French coast as possible the pilot, Lt. Norman Rothschild of Philadelphia, let it down on the rough water. From noon until early morning they heard bombers overhead, saw anti-aircraft fire, heard bombs and listened to German "E" boats.

About daybreak they were sighted by two Spitfires which sent out an air-sea rescue boat.

"E" Awards To Hastings Employes

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 18—(AP)—Lt. Col. C. B. Stead, commanding officer of the Grand Island army air base, was to present army-navy "E" awards here today to employes of the Maxon Construction company, which has been engaged in construction of the Hastings naval depot.

The employes chose Clarence J. Martin, Miss Lucille Dearborn and Warren J. Carl to represent them in receiving the awards.

Rehearings Denied

Motions for rehearing were denied in several cases recently decided by the Supreme court in rulings Saturday.

They include the following:

Ralston Purina Co., vs. Orval Hams—a Boone county stock feeder's appeal charging misrepresentation of swine feed, in which Hams sought additional credits.

Nina Jorgenson vs. Frank M. Stephens, from Lancaster county; involving disposition of runoff water along Sheridan boulevard; Stephens won the decision.

State ex rel Spillman vs. Commercial State bank of Omaha; in which William J. Holtz vainly sought ruling to give him additional attorney's fees.

Massachusetts Bonding & Insurance Co. vs. Master Laboratories of Omaha; in which the laboratories were obliged to make good a $1,000 indemnity bond on which they denied liability

James Harrison Donald of Ames, Ia., vs. E. B. Heller in which Donald was unable to prove contributory negligence of Heller in an auto crash near Havelock.

Catherine Majerus et al vs. Theresa Santo; involving settlement of the estate of Charles Santo of Richardson county in which clarification of the high court's opinion was sought.

2200 Workers Are Needed In Potato Fields

Western Nebraska potato producers are sounding a call for about 2,200 men and women from the eastern half of Nebraska to help with the harvest in that area. An appeal is being made particularly to farm folks in drouth-damaged areas to assist in getting the potatoes out of the ground.

A. H. Maunder, in charge of the emergency farm labor program for the University of Nebraska college of agriculture extension service, said the need for help in the potato fields in western counties will be started by September 25. The peak of the potato harvest will probably be between September 27 and October 10.

With a good potato crop this year, the western growers will need the help of both men and women, Maunder said. It is thought that farm folks from eastern Nebraska might go to the western counties for about a two-week period and return here in time for the corn harvesting season which will get underway about the middle of October.

Counties needing the help include Scotts Bluff, Morrill, Box Butte, Kimball, Banner, and Cheyenne. The women are needed for picking potatoes and the men for both picking and hauling the crop to market. Picking belts and sacks will be furnished by the western growers.

Potato pickers will be paid six cents per bushel and the inexperienced hands, it is estimated, should be able to pick 125 to 150 bushels per day. Experts get as high as 250 bushels in a day.

Stop Nut Employes Hold 2-Shift Dance

Seven hundred and fifty employes of the Elastic Stop Nut corporation held a two-shift dance Friday night in the ballroom of the Lincoln hotel, celebrating the completion of their quota for paid-up memberships in Cornhusker lodge 1604 of the International Association of Machinists.

The affair was also in honor of Lee Chapman who left Friday night for Washington, D. C., where he has accepted a position as expediter with the war production board.

The dance was planned by the girls committee, members of which were the losers in the membership drive, and arranged so that all three shifts could attend. The music was furnished by Johnnie Cox and his orchestra.

3 Prisoners Turned Down By High Court

Prison inmates applying for writs of habeas corpus who have appealed to Supreme court met a stern reception from the high court today.

Pat Duggan, who has applied for freedom unsuccessfully three times was denied right to submit typewritten briefs in his latest effort to escape a 25 year sentence for incest. This action virtually rules out his appeal.

Carl Jackson, applying for leave to appeal his case to the high court in a curious document not in legal form was denied leave to docket. He was sentenced for grand larceny of automobile tires in Douglas county.

Permission to file typewritten briefs was also denied in the habeas corpus appeal of James Dobry, a life prisoner from Colfax county.

Yankees In Line To Win Fall Classic

—LIVELY BALL MAKES THEM FAVORITES—

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—(INS)—This enlightened outburst is based upon the original and unique premise that the New York Yankees are a much better world series risk today than they were in 1942, because, in the meantime, they've lost Joe Dimaggio and Tommy Henrich.

All right, go ahead. Call in the man with the butterfly net. Back up the wagon with the upholstered innards. Bring on the strait-jacket with the Buffalo Bill fringe at the bodice, and hire a keeper with a nice, kind face.

The Yankees still probably are twice the bet they were against the Cardinals last year—because, in spite of being the favorites, they didn't have a chance then. They were licked going into the series because it wasn't their kind of a series.

Different Kind of Game.

The game had changed, the Yankees hadn't. They still were geared for nine runs with the potential hitting of Dimaggio, Henrich, Dickey, Keller, Gordon and the like. And suddenly were getting only one or two, without the means and the will to protect themselves. For, with the dead ball, it wasn't a hitting game any more.

It had become a running game. And they couldn't run. A pitching and tight-defense game. And, up to then, they'd never had to bother much about either.

Anyhow, the Yankees, by accident or design, have adapted themselves to the type of game they must play nowadays—have, in fact, become one of the best one-run clubs in baseball, which is something they weren't at any time prepared to be last year.

Delusions of Power.

They still had the delusion of power, although the ball might as well have been a blob of cement, and the case-record of same was there for anyone who wanted to read it.

Ted Williams had fallen from over .400 to under .360. Dimaggio was down around .300 and Dickey looked like he was through. Keller fell off, too, as did practically everybody else in baseball, with only eight regulars in each league hitting .300 or better.

A pitching and running and hustling club like the Cardinals therefore seemed a cinch to us, particularly since the change in the game had crept up to and past the Yankees while none of the latter was noticing. Of course, it might be difficult to explain how we know all this so surely, while having seen neither club play last year.

We were, with a proper note of apology, endeavoring at the time to elevate the cinema in Hollywood—which doubtless provides its own explanation. In Hollywood, that sort of thing is absurdly simple—you do it, of course, with double exposures.

Links In a Breeze

Red and Black Gridmen Pry Lid Off Season and Sweep To 32-0 Win Over Kearney.

Lincoln high turned on the heat full blast in the second half and smothered Kearney high, 32 to 0, in the opening gridiron game of the season Friday night at the L.H.S. oval.

The Red and Black had control of the ball most of the game, with little Alex Fink doing a brilliant job of ball-lugging. The line looked good on both the offensive and the defensive and, except for Weigant's fine passing game had the Bearcats well bottled up.

Ernie Lee at left tackle and Fullback Bill Betz, as line-backer, were important cogs in a Lincoln defense which persistently throttled the opposition's running attack.

Lincoln Gets Going.

The Links started a quick drive to Kearney's 25-yard line early in the first quarter, but a couple of penalties pushed them back to midfield.

Fink set up the first marker a little later with a nine-yard scamper through the middle to the Bearcats' 17. Don Nelson took the ball and set sail around left end for six points. Betz's attempted goal kick was blocked.

Two passes, Weigant to Cullen and Beaver, netted 24 yards for Kearney and put the pigskin on the Lincoln seven. Lee then flopped on a Kearney fumble and Betz punted out of danger.

Fink Goes Across.

Lincoln's second marker came when Fink bounced through left tackle from the 10. Betz missed the kick. With time running out in the second quarter, Betz bulled his way over from the two and made the kick, boosting the score 19 to 0.

Later, reliable Ernie Lee crashed through, blocked a Bearcat punt and chased it into the end zone for the fourth touchdown.

Betz drove over from the three-yard line to close the scoring, and Red and Black substitutes finished the game.

Cathedral Birds Win In 6-Man

The Cathedral high Bluebirds, one of the better Nebraska teams in six-man football of the past several years, clashed with Milford high in the season's inaugural Friday afternoon on Cathedral field. Although the Seward youths were far from being push-overs, the Bluebirds came through with a 22-14 triumph.

The opening period was unproductive of scoring, but the Bluebirds clicked in the second stanza, Bob Costello rounding end for the first touchdown and kicking the goal for an 8-0 advantage.

Too Much Costello.

Another Costello touchdown punctuated the third period, but a Milford rally in the final quarter netted the visitors two touchdowns by virtue of Rumler's passes to D. Eicher, Milford's right end.

With the final verdict still in doubt, the Bluebirds iced the victory when Costello counted touchdown No. 3 for the host club.

Lineup and Summary.

Femme Goal-kicker Failed To Deliver

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Sept. 18—(INS)—"We'll use her again against Richmond next Friday, she will get over her fright," Coach Griz Baker commented today after Agnes Risner, the 16-year-old girl place-kicker, was sent into the New Castle-Morton Memorial football game. She failed to connect on either of her two attempts to score after touchdowns.

Both Agnes and Coach Baker said her failure was due to excitement and stage freight.

"I couldn't do anything," the blonde girl sighed.

Georgia On Top In Its Opening Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(AP)—Georgia, bereft of every player that brought it the Rose Bowl championship last Jan. 1, hurdled its first football obstacle of the present campaign and put it squarely up to Michigan, Purdue, Duke, Iowa Pre-Flight, Villanova and Cornell to do the same today.

Coach Wally Butts smiled with satisfaction last night as his grid infants and 4-Fs galloped to a 25 to 7 verdict over a Presbyterian college outfit that belted Fort Jackson, 41 to 0, only a week ago.

Dain Clay, Cincinnati outfielder, won 10 letters in high school athletic competition at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Hobart College at Geneva, N. Y., scored only three touchdowns in six 1942 games. The Orange and Purple made but 20

Tigers Again In Driver's Seat

—MISSOURI HAS WINNING NUCLEUS—

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 18—(AP)—There's no substitute for a good substitute.

Adherence to that theory helped make Missouri university what it is today in the football world. The Tigers not only have possessed good talent, they have had it two and three deep.

So it's ironical that Missouri tub-thumpers now claim that reserve strength is one of the biggest problems facing Coaches Chauncey Simpson and Herb Bunker as they prepare the Tiger squad for a gruelling eight-game schedule. Neutral sideliners may not agree after scanning the list of candidates.

Not that Simpson doesn't have his worries. His squad of over 50, although possessing plenty of weight, is inexperienced. There are three lettermen, headed by Don (Bull) Reece, 210-pound fullback and captain of the 1942 championship team. The others are Bill Ekern and Jack Morton, ends.

There isn't much cheer in the schedule, either, with Minnesota and Ohio State listed for the first two games and the Iowa Seahawks, now coached by Missouri's own Don Faurot, to be met Oct. 16 in Kansas City.

Experience has taught Big Six followers that the Tigers' growl is not worse than their bite and are ignoring the preseason rumbles. They'll pass judgment on the Big Six champions' prospects after seeing a sample of the bite.

ABUNDANCE OF BEEF.

Judging from Big Six weight tables, the Tigers won't be at any disadvantage in pounds and the reserve problem is present at the other institutions.

Bill Dellastatious, 162, Washington, D. C., a former Clemson college player, has been particularly impressive in scrimmages. He's a proficient passer and able ball-carrier. The giant of the club is Jim Kekeris from McKinley high, St. Louis, at 287 pounds. Agile for his size, the big tackle is one of the best runners on the squad.

The Tiger roster is minus the stars that spearheaded the march to a second consecutive Big Six championship last year, but the team appears to be strong enough for the weakened Big Six conference competition this season. The schedule:

September—25, Minnesota at Minneapolis.

October—2, Ohio State at Columbus, O.; 9, Kansas State at Columbia; 16, Iowa Seahawks at Kansas City; 30, Nebraska at Columbia.

November—6, Iowa State at Ames; 13, Oklahoma at Columbia; 20, Kansas at Lawrence.

Pennant In Bag

Cards Down Cubs Again to Spike the Flag At Peak of Pole In St. Louis' Park.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals today were established as firmly as anything in sports ever is—in first place in the National league.

The chief contender, Brooklyn, was practically eliminated after losing yesterday to the Giants, who, incidentally, are acting pretty lively for a team most sports fans had accepted as dead and buried weeks ago.

While one New York club was winning, the other, the mighty Yankees were having their haughty noses ground in the Washington dust by the Senators of the same address.

The Washington club thus put themselves more securely in the second-place spot as their closest competitor, Cleveland, was defeated by Detroit. The Senators now lead by three and one-half games.

Walker Sewed It Up.

The Cards pulled through to a narrow 2 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs last night in a 10-inning game. The Redbirds thus need only one more game to clinch their second successive National league pennant. Mort Cooper hurled five-hit ball, snatching his twentieth victory, balanced against only five losses. Walker Cooper sewed the game up with a double to left in the final frame.

Brooklyn was defeated by the Giants, 6 to 4 in the New York club's sixth win in their last seven games. The game was loosely played and marked by frequent errors. The Dodgers picked up four runs in the second stanza, three of them on Sid Gordon's wild throw to first with the bases loaded. The Giants clustered four runs in the seventh, none of which was earned.

Pirates Stop Reds.

Max Butcher and Bucky Walters fought a thrilling pitchers' duel last night in which Butcher finally emerged the victor when the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Cincinnati Reds, 1 to 0.

The only other game scheduled in the National league, the Philadelphia contest with Boston, was postponed.

The Yanks were humbled by the Washington Senators, 6 to 3, ending a nine-consecutive victory string for New York. Bobo Newsom, the latest bad boy of baseball, endeared himself to the Washingtonians by providing valuable work for his latest home club.

Tigers Scalp Indians.

The Detroit Tigers came from behind in the ninth inning last night to defeat the Cleveland Indians, 2 to 1. Johnny Gorsica was credited with the win when he took over in the eighth, although he had to have help from Virgil Trucks in the ninth.

In the last game under the lights this season, the Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 2 to 1. It was the Sox's second win in 10 starts. Orval Grove got the victory, while Danny Galehouse was charged with the loss. Boston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Rockets Ramble

Lincoln Northeast Romps To 20-0 Victory In First Game of Gridiron Season.

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 18—Clear the Mid-East conference track; the Rockets are coming! In fact, they're definitely on their way to another conference football crown. Proved it here last night under the lights when the Lincoln Northeast Rockets, conference champs of a year ago, when they swept the platter clean in the title race, plastered a 20-0 defeat on Hastings high.

The Galloway-coached Rockets established a convincing lead during the first half, when Halfback Chick Knight drove through the Hastings line for the first touchdown and Halfback Roland Delaney, whose running game made him a standout, crossed the final line for the second marker.

Delaney's Long Run.

A breakdown of the lighting system prolonged the intermission for an hour or more. When play was resumed, the Rockets struck again with telling effect. On the initial play of the third period, Delaney sped around end and, once shaken free by his blockers, galloped some 65 yards to a third and final score.

Hastings threatened twice during the final half, when successful forward passes by Hunt and Perdew to Duncan advanced the ball to within scoring distance, but the Rockets set up a stiff defensive and muzzled the Hastings attack.

Alvo Hi Swamped By Otoe 6-Man Outfti

ALVO, Neb., Sept. 18—Otoe's Earl Ruffner was too much for the Alvo six-manners Friday afternoon, as the Otoemen plastered a 27 to 0 defeat on the Orioles. Ruffner, an all-state selection last year, ran and kicked his way to four touchdowns, a kicked try-for-point and a run-for-point to account for all of his team's scoring.

Alvo was handicapped by fumbleitis, losing the ball consistently after making inroads into enemy territory. Fumbles at crucial moments cost the Orioles three good scoring opportunities. Reuter and Skinner teamed well in the backfield for Alvo, while Hollenbeck was outstanding at end. Ruffner was the whole noise for Otoe.

Commish Relents In Case of Bummy

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(AP)—Al (Bummy) Davis, on the suspended list of the New York boxing commission since November, 1940, has been reinstated as of today. Davis was banished after being disqualified in the second round of a bout with Fritzie Zivic

B. Dickey In Classic Hero Role

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(INS)—Elderly William Malcolm Dickey is a candidate for the hero's role in the coming world series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees, for whom he has been catching ever since they ran him down deep in the heart of Arkansas—or was it Louisiana?—put a uniform on him and signed him to a contract.

Mr. Dickey is a quiet, lovable character who serves as a sort of patriarch in the Yankees' camp these days with his in and out turns behind the bat that have given him a batting average just under .380.

That makes him a star again, a position he has held ever since 1930 when he became a Yankee regular, one of the greatest catchers that ever laced on the padding, and finally now a veteran of the baseball wars through all kinds of thick and thin.

He has been in seven world series—seven of those classics catching some of the best pitchers that ever hurled a ball.

Brewers Wave Flag In Two-A

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 18—(AP)—Baseball's most colorful combination clicked for the pot of gold last night—the Milwaukee Brewers ended their two-year trek over the rainbow from the American association's sub-cellar by clinching the pennant.

And just for the record, the trip was bought and paid for by William L. Veeck, Jr., the 29-year-old Brewer owner and president, who with Manager Charlie Grimm bought the Brews in 1941, when they were 22 games off the pace of the seventh place club.

Grimm and Veeck spent some $90,000 the first year, and kept up the pace, until last night they could afford to lean back and grin as their version of murderers' row—studded by batting champs from almost every minor league in sight—blasted the Brewers from a 7 to 0 deficit to a 12 to 10 victory over Kansas City. It was the payoff decision, putting Milwaukee three and a half games ahead of Indianapolis, with three to go.
